INFIRMARY DIRECTOR.

Mr. John J. Cadwalader is an Aspirant for the Berth of Director.

Mr. John J. Cadwalader, of East Fairfield township, is a candidate for the position of infirmary director of Columbiana county. He is well and favorably known all over this section, and the universal verdict is that he would make a first-class official and look carefully to the best interests of those who would be placed under his care in case of his election, while the best interests of the county at large, in connection with the management of the infirmary, would be fully subserved.

We understand that it was thought Mr. Cadwalader would have no opposition for the berth at the coming spring Republican primaries; but it now seems that there will be "another Richard in the field." Mr. Cadwalader has already made two runs and canvasses for the berth to which he aspires, and a feeling of fair play is in the political atmosphere, declaring that he is entitled to the position; first, on account of his eminent fitness; and, secondly, on account of his sand and pluck in facing all difficulties which loom up in his political horizon. Success attend him in his effort, and may the third time prove a charm in his favor.

MAYOR DAVIDSON

SENDS ANNUAL REPORT TO AUDITOR ADAMS.

Since Last April He Has Had Just 61 State Cases Before Him.

Mayor Davidson today completed his annual report to be submitted to County Auditor Adams.

The report deals with the cases before the mayor that come under the state law, and the law also requires that he make such report to the county auditor.

Since April 9 of last year Mayor Davidson has had 61 states cases before him. This is a very good showing.

Some of the offenders were fined by him, but a review of the records will show that a number of the offenders went to Lisbon to receive sentences and some of them are now serving terms in the penitentiary.

During the year the mayor has sent a number of cases to the grand jury, and in every instance a conviction has been secured, as the mayor has been careful not to send trivial cases to the court and increase the expenses of the county.

AN INCIDENT NOT ON THE BILLS

THE LANDLADY OBJECTED

And Sat on the Trunk After It Had Been Moved to the Street.

SHE IS NOW IN POSSESSION

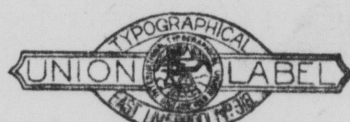

An incident occurred on a corner of Sixth street last evening which contained a few features that were not down on the bills.

Kate Grafton had been rooming with the family of Mrs. Pat Costello, and recently there had been some objection on the part of the inmates of the house, concerning her actions. Last night Miss Grafton's landlady informed her that she would have to leave, and as the young woman owed $3 for the rent of the room, she was considerably wrought up as to the safety of her worldly goods.

left the place and the Grafton girl entered the house, accompanied by a boy, and secured possession of her trunk. They carried it to a point on Sixth street, opposite the residence of Charles Harker and stopped to take a rest. The woman had secured a room at the Garner home, Monroe street, and was making her way to that place when Mrs. Costello appeared on the scene. She sat down upon the trunk, declaring she would retain possession of it until the $3 owed was paid.

Miss Grafton and the boy abandoned the trunk and went their different ways, so that Mrs. Costello was left in supreme control.

The outfit was taken back to the house and now remains in the kitchen, in full view of all members of the household.

CHARLES PINKERTON

PAWNED HIS PHONOGRAPH AND 22 RECORDS.

When He Came to Redeem the Pawnbroker Said He Had Sold the Goods.

Charles Pinkerton was the owner of a phonograph, with 22 records. He states that he came to a pawnbroker's in this city and secured $5.00 on his musical apparatus, leaving the instrument as security, he to pay $6.50 when he redeemed the same. He claimed that he was on deck six days before the specified time had elapsed, when the pawnbroker informed him that he had already disposed of the property and that it is now in Youngstown, Ohio. Mr. Pinkerton came to Magistrate McLane, and the justice advised him to secure the services of an attorney, which he did, with the result that an affidavit was filed and attachment was placed in the hands of Constable Miller, who proceeded forthwith to the pawnbroker's office and levied on what looks like a second hand jewelry establishment, embracing gold and silver watches, chains, rings, etc., which are now snugly stowed away in a safe in the city, awaiting the appearance on the scene of action of the pawnbroker defendant, who is a non-resident of Columbiana county. The goods are appraised in the sum of $64.00. The goods levied on were not found at the pawnbroker's shop, which has been closed and goods taken away, but were found in the care of the proprietor of a pool room doing business on Sixth street. We await developments.

J. M. KELLY SUES FOR $18,000.00

Which He Says Is Due on a Promissory Note Given By The

EAST LIVERPOOL BRIDGE CO.

ATTACHED TO SECURE PAYMENT

Lisbon, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—J. M. Kelly filed an action in court this morning demanding judgment in the sum of $18,000 against the East Liverpool Bridge company, W. L. Smith and E. D. Marshall.

On January 11, 1896, the bridge company, by J. E. McDonald, president, gave a note for $18,000 to Smith and Marshall, payable in five years. Last December the note was indorsed by the plaintiff, who presented it on the day it matured at the First National bank in East Liverpool and payment was refused. When it was protested for non-payment, a protestee of $1.90 is added to the amount. An attachment was issued against the lot on the Ohio side of the river on which the abutments to the bridge are erected.

Ed A. King, of Lisbon, Stated for a Lucrative Foreign Position After March 4.

Youngstown Vindicator.
E. A. King, secretary of the board of elections of the house of representatives, of which Congressman R. W. Taylor is chairman, was in the city last evening, returning from Lisbon to Washington and was the guest of Postmaster Shaffer.

Shortly after the inauguration of President McKinley, Secretary King will be tendered a lucrative appointment abroad.

The Revival Extending.

Nothing was more evident last night than that the revival meetings in the M. P. church are rapidly increasing every day—in the numbers attending, interest manifested, displays of power and accessions to the church. Quite a class was received into the church last night, and as has been the case ever since the meeting began, the majority of those who joined were adults, married persons. These new additions are adding materially to the solid strength of this already strong church; but best of all is that great joy and peace is being added to many hearts and homes. By Sunday next, it is predicted, these meetings will be powerful, if they continue through the week as they are going now.

Services tonight at 8 o'clock.

Lisbon, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—J. M. Kelly filed an action in court this morning demanding judgment in the sum of $18,000 against the East Liverpool Bridge company, W. L. Smith and E. D. Marshall.

On January 11, 1896, the bridge company, by J. E. McDonald, president, gave a note for $18,000 to Smith and Marshall, payable in five years. Last December the note was indorsed by the plaintiff, who presented it on the day it matured at the First National bank in East Liverpool and payment was refused. When it was protested for non-payment, a protestee of $1.90 is added to the amount. An attachment was issued against the lot on the Ohio side of the river on which the abutments to the bridge are erected.

E. A. King, secretary of the board of elections of the house of representatives, of which Congressman R. W. Taylor is chairman, was in the city last evening, returning from Lisbon to Washington and was the guest of Postmaster Shaffer.

Shortly after the inauguration of President McKinley, Secretary King will be tendered a lucrative appointment abroad.

The Revival Extending.

Nothing was more evident last night than that the revival meetings in the M. P. church are rapidly increasing every way—in the numbers attending, interest manifested, displays of power and accessions to the church. Quite a class was received into the church last night, and as has been the case ever since the meeting began, the majority of those who joined were adults, married persons. These new additions are adding materially to the solid strength of this already strong church; but best of all is that great joy and peace is being added to many hearts and homes. By Sunday next, it is predicted, these meetings will be powerful, if they continue through the week as they are going now.

Services tonight at 8 o'clock.

Labor's Outlook in the New Century.

Better Times for the Workingman.
By Edwin Markham.

The following questions were sent to Edwin Markham, at his home in Brooklyn, who wrote the answers specially for the Christian Herald. The lines quoted in two or three of the questions are from Mr. Markham's collected poems, published by Doubleday, Page & Co., entitled "The Man With the Hoe and Other poems."

1. On what questions should all branches of labor unite for the good of the country?

On the reduction of hours of labor per day; on compulsory arbitration; on the study, from humane motives, of the co-operative ideal in industry.

2. In what way, or toward what end, should labor utilize its gigantic strength?

They should resolutely will to come into harmony and unity of aim and aspiration; they should make appeal through the ballot box for an enlargement of the rights of man. They should strive to so organize the world as to keep open the gates of opportunity.

3. What opportunities should the new century bring to the workingman?

Security in his work, and sufficient leisure from his work to give him time to cultivate his moral and aesthetic nature.

4. What effect, in your opinion, will great combinations of wealth have upon the workingman of the future?—will concentration of wealth, trusts, etc., prove a benefit or a drawback to the workingman's progress?

Great combinations of wealth will tend to make greater counter combinations among the working classes. Trusts will be a decided drawback to the workingman's progress unless some means shall be found to make them serve the good of the whole people, as now they serve the good of a very few.

5. To what degree should the workingman be made a partner of wealth?

If I understand your question, he should be made a full partner. In other words, he should receive as nearly as possible the full value of the things he makes or does.

6. In one of your poems, "The Man Under the Stone," you compare a workingman to a man going through life pushing a great stone always up hill. What is the workingman's real burden—what is the real stone in his up-hill life?

That great stone is his unequal struggle for bread today, still further weighted with the fear of penury tomorrow and the dread of a destitute old age. All this, of course, springs out of the narrow margin of scant wage and precarious employment.

7. What kind of help, aside from higher wages, does the laboring man need?

He needs the contented mind that comes from security in his work and joy in his work. This necessarily carries the idea that he must have more leisure and more culture.

8. What would most help to lighten the toiler's burden?

Cooperation, in place of competition, in the industrial world. Cooperation is the logic of Christianity.

9. How can the government best help the workingman?

As a first step, by assuming control of railroads, telegraphs, etc., and so moving wisely onward toward government ownership of all industries which in private hands have become a menace to the public good and the public safety.

10. What should be done with the idle millions? with the great army of men who want work and yet can find nothing to do?

As first steps, they might well be employed by cities and states, at living wages, upon public works. If enough work of that kind is not forthcoming, let the public powers establish ship yards and other industries sufficient in number to employ the willing hands. Of course, if we have a more effective organization of industry, working time for the now idle could be found by cutting down the excessive hours at present forced upon the overworked. Keep cutting down the hours of the day's work until every one has work.

11. Are strikes, which are really battles between workman and employer, helpful or harmful to the toiler?

As a rule, they are harmful to the toiler. But at times they seem to be cruel necessities.

12. Would the toiler benefit if, instead of striking, he submitted his grievances to the general government or to a labor department, regulated by law and having a minister of labor in the president's cabinet? Would not this be a better way for the workingman, for the settlement of differences between employer and employed?

Yes, labor should be represented in the cabinet by an intelligent laborer; not by a parlor farmer, nor by a retired capitalist. The method you suggest of settling strikes would be a decided improvement upon the present haphazard plan.

13. "Their blind feet drift in the darkness, and no one is leading." What kind of leaders do the toilers need?

They need leaders with the white purity of a St. Francis and the iron resolution of a Cromwell, leaders whose watchword shall be "God and the People!" Such men were Joseph Mazzini and John Ruskin.

14. How can the church best help the "brother to the ox?" How reach him, lift him up?

By studying the anxious problems of economics and finding a way of applying the Golden Rule to industry.

15. And working women? Have we a "sister to the ox?" How should she be reached, uplifted—her burden lightened?

Yes, we have a "sister to the ox." Men and women rise and fall together. In general, the same means that will lift and lighten man's burdens will alleviate woman's also.

16. Do churches and church workers neglect the working people? Do they pay enough attention to factory centers and great industrial towns?

No, churches do not give enough attention to these matters. Indeed, the burning question in each church today should be the social problem. The saving of men's souls is very closely connected with the amelioration of their social and industrial conditions. The church needs a new baptism of the Holy Spirit, which is the same as saying, Social Spirit.

By Commander Booth-Tucker.

The very expression, "Idle Millions," sends a shudder through the heart of any thinking man. Is it possible that with all the marvelous advances made by science in every realm of thought and enterprise, we have not yet solved the initial problem of socioculture—the employment of the unemployed in a humane and remunerative manner? The fact is there, staring us in the face—idle millions standing in the world's market places, where the throb of trade and hum of commerce constitute one ceaseless whirl of activity and continuous progress.

See how door after door of opportunity has closed against the idle millions, through no fault of their own. The avenues of remunerative work are choked with a busy swarm of toilers, who, like a herd of stampeded cattle, gore and trample each other to death in the wild rush for the waters—not of wealth, but of existence, even of very life itself.

There is a remedy, so simply, so natural, so feasible, that the amazing point is that society has taken so long about its consideration and adoption. Let these idle missions be planted upon the vast tracts of idle land by means of the enormous aggregation of idle capital, which can in these days be so easily commanded for any given purpose on which a nation may set its heart, and the problem has been solved. The fallacies that they will not go that they will not stay, that they will not work, that they will not pay, have been exploded by the land colonies which we have already established in this country. We have unquestionably demonstrated that under proper management and suitable conditions, there is no more attractive and feasible form of philanthropy, and none that will more surely repay the capital as well as toil expended on it. Those who have visited the Salvation Army colonies have been unanimous in their testimony as to the practicability of the plan of placing "the landless man on the manless land," as it has been epigrammatically expressed by one of our great writers.

If we stretch out to the idle millions the warm, loving hands, not of charity, but of remunerative employment, in the establishment of homes of which they shall be the happy owners, we shall provide a market for our commerce, new avenues of industry for our city population, an ornament to our nation and an object lesson to the world, by converting our idle millions into our best and most trusted citizens.

Arbitration Remains Labor's Hope.

By W. Stainsby, Chief of the Bureau of Labor of New Jersey.

You ask for my views on the reforms which the new century should bring into the world of labor, especially as to the establishment of labor courts, the abolition of strikes and the addition to the president's cabinet of a secretary of labor. The general discontent now prevailing throughout the world among those who may well be designated the working classes, would seem to indicate the necessity of such reforms in the relations of employer and employe as will make each better acquainted with the aspirations, responsibilities and difficulties of the other.

I believe in arbitration as a means of settling labor disputes after the principals have failed to adjust their difficulties for themselves. Indeed, it is only in that way that any just settlement may be effected. When a dispute becomes so intense as to verge on a strike the principals are of all persons the least competent to get at the merits of it, and determine which side is right; it is only an impartial third party who can do that. The public interests require that all such disputes should be arbitrated, and the side refusing to submit its case for settlement in that way ought to receive the severest censure that public opinion can inflict.

Many of our states have enacted laws establishing boards of arbitration in the interest of the public, but the results of their works seem much below what was expected from them. The failure is generally attributed to the fact that their power is simply advisory; offers of mediation by them are frequently rejected by one or both of the parties to a labor dispute. To give these boards authority to intervene, regardless of what the principals might desire, with the same authority to enforce decisions which the only way of making their work effective. As a theory, such a course would seem to be free from any serious objection; it would only be necessary to find out the right of the matter in dispute, which might be wholly on one side, or partly on both, and decide accordingly; but if the findings should not be acquiesced in by the party at fault, then how would the public regard the measures which

I was troubled with severe disorders of the kidneys and enlargement of the liver. My family doctor treated me the whole of last winter, but did not help me very much, so I gave him up and began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The result was simply wonderful. I am now strong and healthy again, thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

Mrs. Rose Chaffee, a business woman of Eaton Rapids, writes: "For a long time my system was in a terribly weakened state. Biliousness, severe indigestion and kidney troubles made me so miserable that I was hardly able to work. A friend told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I found them just as represented. They restored my health to me, and I think they are a wonderful medicine."

must necessarily be taken to enforce them. Assuming the cause of trouble to be the discharge of some workmen by an employer, and that the court, finding the reasons given for dismissal not satisfactory, should order them restored to their places. The employer has no choice between taking back men he does not want in his employ and whom he has already discharged, or incurring the penalty of contempt of the court, which could be no other than fine, and if persisted in, imprisonment.

There are at the present time many instances of labor disputes having been satisfactorily settled by volunteer arbitrators, in whose hands both sides were willing to leave their cause. The intelligence, good judgment, and high personal character of these men being regarded as sufficient guarantee that the conclusions reached by them, no matter which side was favored, would be just and equitable.

"God is invisible, and the czar is far off" is a proverb among the Russian peasantry, eloquently expressive of wrongs inflicted by irresponsible underlings; the pathetic note running through it finds an echo in the heart of many an American workman, from whom the president or other supreme officer of the corporation that employs him, is as "far off" as is the Russian autocrat from the peasant.

To remedy these things, I believe that every corporation should have sitting at its council board, on perfectly equal terms with the other directors, a representative man who would particularly represent the interests of labor, and see to it that in shaping its policy due consideration be given to them.

This representation should be based on stock which the corporation might place within reach of their workmen, on terms adjusted to their means, and which they should be encouraged to buy. He would then have a means of making his wants known and adjusting his grievances without resorting to strikes, and this, I believe, would be of infinitely greater advantage to him and to the public, than the appointment by the president of a secretary of labor in the cabinet of the chief executive of the nation.

Keep cutting down the hours of the day's work until every one has work.

11. Are strikes, which are really battles between workman and employer, helpful or harmful to the toiler?

As a rule, they are harmful to the toiler. But at times they seem to be cruel necessities.

12. Would the toiler benefit if, instead of striking, he submitted his grievances to the general government or to a labor department, regulated by law and having a minister of labor in the president's cabinet? Would not this be a better way for the workingman, for the settlement of differences between employer and employed?

Yes, labor should be represented in the cabinet by an intelligent laborer; not by a parlor farmer, nor by a retired capitalist. The method you suggest of settling strikes would be a decided improvement upon the present haphazard plan.

13. "Their blind feet drift in the darkness, and no one is leading." What kind of leaders do the toilers need?

They need leaders with the white purity of a St. Francis and the iron resolution of a Cromwell, leaders whose watchword shall be "God and the People!" Such men were Joseph Mazzini and John Ruskin.

14. How can the church best help the "brother to the ox?" How reach him, lift him up?

By studying the anxious problems of economics and finding a way of applying the Golden Rule to industry.

15. And working women? Have we a "sister to the ox?" How should she be reached, uplifted—her burden lightened?

Yes, we have a "sister to the ox." Men and women rise and fall together. In general, the same means that will lift and lighten man's burdens will alleviate woman's also.

16. Do churches and church workers neglect the working people? Do they pay enough attention to factory centers and great industrial towns?

No, churches do not give enough attention to these matters. Indeed, the burning question in each church today should be the social problem. The saving of men's souls is very closely connected with the amelioration of their social and industrial conditions. The church needs a new baptism of the Holy Spirit, which is the same as saying, Social Spirit.

By Commander Booth-Tucker.

The very expression, "Idle Millions," sends a shudder through the heart of any thinking man. Is it possible that with all the marvelous advances made by science in every realm of thought and enterprise, we have not yet solved the initial problem of socioclature—the employment of the unemployed in a humane and remunerative manner? The fact is there, staring us in the face—idle millions standing in the world's market places, where the throb of trade and hum of commerce constitute one ceaseless whirl of activity and continuous progress.

See how door after door of opportunity has closed against the idle millions, through no fault of their own. The avenues of remunerative work are choked with a busy swarm of toilers, who, like a herd of stampeded cattle, gore and trample each other to death in the wild rush for the waters—not of wealth, but of existence, even of very life itself.

There is a remedy, so simply, so natural, so feasible, that the amazing point is that society has taken so long about its consideration and adoption. Let these idle millions be planted upon the vast tracts of idle land by means of the enormous aggregation of idle capital, which can in these days be so easily commanded for any given purpose on which a nation may set its heart, and the problem has been solved. The fallacies that they will not go that they will not stay, that they will not work, that they will not pay, have been exploded by the land colonies which we have already established in this country. We have unquestionably demonstrated that under proper management and suitable conditions, there is no more attractive and feasible form of philanthropy, and none that will more surely repay the capital as well as toil expended on it. Those who have visited the Salvation Army colonies have been unanimous in their testimony as to the practicability of the plan of placing "the landless man on the manless land," as it has been epigrammatically expressed by one of our great writers.

If we stretch out to the idle millions the warm, loving hands, not of charity, but of remunerative employment, in the establishment of homes of which they shall be the happy owners, we shall provide a market for our commerce, new avenues of industry for our city population, an ornament to our nation and an object lesson to the world, by converting our idle millions into our best and most trusted citizens.

Arbitration Remains Labor's Hope.
By W. Stainsby, Chief of the Bureau of Labor of New Jersey.

You ask for my views on the reforms which the new century should bring into the world of labor, especially as to the establishment of labor courts, the abolition of strikes and the addition to the president's cabinet of a secretary of labor. The general discontent now prevailing throughout the world among those who may well be designated the working classes, would seem to indicate the necessity of such reforms in the relations of employer and employe as will make each better acquainted with the aspirations, responsibilities and difficulties of the other.

I believe in arbitration as a means of settling labor disputes after the principals have failed to adjust their difficulties for themselves. Indeed, it is only in that way that any just settlement may be effected. When a dispute becomes so intense as to verge on a strike the principals are of all persons the least competent to get at the merits of it, and determine which side is right; it is only an impartial third party who can do that. The public interests require that all such disputes should be arbitrated, and the side refusing to submit its case for settlement in that way ought to receive the severest censure that public opinion can inflict.

Many of our states have enacted laws establishing boards of arbitration in the interest of the public, but the results of their works seem much below what was expected from them. The failure is generally attributed to the fact that their power is simply advisory; offers of mediation by them are frequently rejected by one or both of the parties to a labor dispute. To give these boards authority to intervene, regardless of what the principals might desire, with the same authority to enforce decisions which the only way of making their work effective. As a theory, such a course would seem to be free from any serious objection; it would only be necessary to find out the right of the matter in dispute, which might be wholly on one side, or partly on both, and decide accordingly; but if the findings should not be acquiesced in by the party at fault, then how would the public regard the measures which

Mrs. Isaac Dunham, a well-known lady of that place, writes: "I cannot praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills too much. They did for me what doctors and other medicines could not do. I was troubled with severe disorders of the kidneys and enlargement of the liver. My family doctor treated me the whole of last winter, but did not help me very much, so I gave him up and began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The result was simply wonderful. I am now strong and healthy again, thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

EATON RAPIDS, MICH.

Mrs. Rose Chaffee, a business woman of Eaton Rapids, writes: "For a long time my system was in a terribly weakened state. Biliousness, severe indigestion and kidney troubles made me a miserable man that I was hardly able to work. A friend told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I found them just as represented. They restored my health to me, and I think they are a wonderful medicine."

must necessarily be taken to enforce them. Assuming the cause of trouble to be the discharge of some workmen by an employer, and that the court, finding the reasons given for dismissal not satisfactory, should order them restored to their places. The employer has no choice between taking back men he does not want in his employ and whom he has already discharged, or incurring the penalty of contempt of the court, which could be no other than fine, and if persisted in, imprisonment.

There are at the present time many instances of labor disputes having been satisfactorily settled by volunteer arbitrators, in whose hands both sides were willing to leave their cause. The intelligence, good judgment, and high personal character of these men being regarded as sufficient guarantee that the conclusions reached by them, no matter which side was favored, would be just and equitable.

"God is invisible, and the czar is far off" is a proverb among the Russian peasantry, eloquently expressive of wrongs inflicted by irresponsible underlings; the pathetic note running through it finds an echo in the heart of many an American workman, from whom the president or other supreme officer of the corporation that employs him, is as "far off" as is the Russian autocrat from the peasant.

To remedy these things, I believe that every corporation should have sitting at its council board, on perfectly equal terms with the other directors, a representative man who would particularly represent the interests of labor, and see to it that in shaping its policy due consideration be given to them.

This representation should be based on stock which the corporation might place within reach of their workmen, on terms adjusted to their means, and which they should be encouraged to buy. He would then have a means of making his wants known and adjusting his grievances without resorting to strikes, and this, I believe, would be of infinitely greater advantage to him and to the public, than the appointment by the president of a secretary of labor in the cabinet of the chief executive of the nation.

THE LATHERS AND THE PLASTERERS

MANAGED TO WIN OUT

A Narge Number of Delegates Were Obligated and Took Their Seats.

AN INTERESTING MEETING

Trades Council met in regular session last evening with an unusually large attendance. Chairman McLane presided, and owing to the illness of Secretary Brownfield, C. J. McHugh, of Typographical union No. 318, was selected to perform the duties of the office.

Last night's meeting will go down in history as one of the most interesting since the body was formed. It was notable for the large number of new delegates seated, and also for the strong controversy between the delegates from the rival lathers and plasterers, each of which had a full delegation present.

As stated exclusively in the News Review of Monday the lathers have been contemplating for some time the advisability of taking their grievance before the central labor body, but were very careful to exhaust all means to gain recognition without taking the matter into Trades Council. This they did, and the fact that they have been regular in their attendance at the meetings of the latter organization had already created a favorable impression in their favor, so when the matter came up at last evening's session they had the battle half won in the start.

Their statement was much the same as that given to the public by this paper last Monday, and consisted of a demand that they be recognized by contractors as a separate trade, and that their cards be honored by all building trades.

At the meeting last night the delegates from the plasterers' organization declared they would never consent to the recognition, and a very warm discussion ensued, in which the lathers had much the best of the argument.

It was apparent to a majority of those present that nothing could be gained to listening to the various claims on the floor, especially since the argument had become so animated that pleasantries were being indulged in, and on motion the matter was placed in the hands of a grievance committee, who will ask a statement from each of the international officials. The decision of the committee will be based to a great extent upon the statements of these organizations.

However, it is extremely difficult for the average man, knowing anything of unionism, to figure out how the lathers can be denied recognition, since they are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which makes them a bona fide organization in every sense of the word.

The report of the trustees, who have had the books of the various officers in hand for the some time, was received and showed that everything was in good shape, and that the organization was advancing in a very satisfactory manner, both financially and along other lines.

The remainder of the evening was given over to the entertainment, which has been promised the members and their friends for some time.

The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, Miss Ruby Oppell reading very entertainingly, and the selection rendered by the Acme quartet, composed of juvenile vocalists, was thoroughly enjoyed. LeRoy Orr, in comic recitations, pleased the audience so well that he was compelled to answer a number of encores. The C. C. quartet rendered fine music. In fact, the large crowd was thoroughly entertained and an hour had slipped away before they were really aware of it.

The affair was so successful that another effort will be made along the same line in the near future.

The following delegates were seated:

Kilndrawers and Oddmen—Alpha Theull, Phil Moore and Ed Verth.

Plasterers No. 42—Charles Miller, William Snyder, Joseph Elwell and G. B. McClure.

Painters and Decorators No. 165—E. Provo.

Local union No. 32—John Edge, H. C. Green, George Wilson, Charles Dorff.

Lathers—Frank Baldwin.

It was decided, however, to notify the high schools that any time their students desired to visit the university they would be welcomed.

The dairy school opened this term with an increased number of students. The excellence of this school over that of any similar one for the study of this work is becoming evident. The cheese made here won a medal at the Paris exposition, both for their flavor and their form. This subject in the agricultural course is only taken up in the spring term, and a great many students come in at this time merely for the study of dairying.

NO ARRESTS.

Business at Police Court is Still at a Standstill.

Ed Joyce, who was arrested for being drunk, was turned loose by Mayor Davidson last evening. Joyce is an old man, and is more to be pitied than censured.

There were no arrests last night, and business at police court is still very slow.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not, but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901.

A PESKY RODENT.

A nasty rat while at Akron. A loud-mouthed advocate of unionism when in East Liverpool.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

We have reference to the arc light supposed to illuminate the corners of Kossuth and Walnut streets. It has failed to effulge on several nights of late.

COWARDICE.

The charge of cowardice could be conclusively proven, in any court of plain justice in the land, against the West Pointers who put up a trained pugilist against a mere novice in the use of his fists.

WHO PAYS FOR THEM.

A local union office in this city, forced into the union, refused to publish the label of Typographical union No. 318, some time since, unless the local union paid for the same at so much an inch. It did not receive the advertisement.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

As usual, the local Police Gazette rushes into the arena and advocates the cause of sin, iniquity and Sabbath desecration. One good feature is the fact that those who are best acquainted with the evil reputation of the unsavory sheet do not believe anything it says.

CALL 'EM DOWN.

The men and women who hissed Congressman Driggs because the latter doubted the veracity of a cadet who possessed a convenient memory, should have been ejected from the court. The cadet who will brutally haze a weak and helpless fellow student will not hesitate to lie about the matter.

TRADES COUNCIL.

Some few years since there came into the business office of the News Review a committee representing Trades Council, desiring to know what we would charge per inch for the publication of union labels in our paper. The answer was that we would not charge Trades Council a penny, and for years that body published a full column, free of charge. The lower region sheet did not publish a single label. Facts speak louder than bombast and bluff.

LICENSE FOR CHESTER.

And the Rum Devil is trying to force its hideous and foul presence upon the residents of the fair little town over the river, the pushing and progressive Chester. Wherever prosperity presents itself, there rushes the liquor league, eager to place licensed hell holes in position, for the purpose of robbing the workingmen of their hard earned earnings, and robbing the wives and children in workingmen's homes, and doing its level best to aid the boss of hades in peopling hell with victims of the Rum Demon. Every citizen of Chester should enter hot protest against the introduction and establishment of an accursed saloon in their midst.

LOCAL HISTORY.

The News Review has always been a union paper under the present management; union from the standpoint of principle; never rattled for a single hour or minute; always ready and eager to meet any legitimate claim made upon it by true and sober union officials or committees. We defy any man or body of men to successfully refute this assertion. A local sheet in this city was run as an out-and-out rat journal for a year and a half, under the ban of No. 318 Typographical union, and only came into the fold again when forced to on account of declining patronage—union from a pocket book consideration. The same delectable sheet desired to rat all offices in this city, and employ female compositors at the same rate as at Alliance, $3.75 per week, and the writer was the cause of the defeat of this project to use slave labor, asserting that any competent printer should not receive less than $12.00 per week. Best of all, we can prove this assertion to be plain truth.

THE RUM DEVIL.

He is but twenty-six years of age, yet fair to look upon, and yet a complete slave to the Rum Devil. He pawned a fine overcoat at Wheeling and secured just enough money on the garment to bring him to Wells-ville on the train. He walked from Wells-ville to East Liverpool, entered a dive on Sixth street, secured a couple of drinks, and was then directed to the home of the writer, where he told a pitiful story of hard luck and struck us for a dollar. We failed to materialize on the cartwheel, but finally accompanied the prodigal to the depot, purchased a ticket for a point in the Beaver region, saw the lad seated in the cosy and comfortable passenger coach, slid the ticket into his hand, received profuse thanks for being, as he said, a good fellow, and then meandered back to our domicile on the hill, kicking ourselves all along the route for not permitting the boozier to work his passage home over the cross ties, on shank's mare, thus rendering him sober and repentant. Oh, the pity of it, that young man like the one described, bright and brainy, intended by nature to occupy positions of honor and trust, should lose all respect and manhood in consequence of the drink habit and the presence of the accursed saloon in our midst. God speed the day when this great government shall dissolve the partnership with the Rum Devil.

SUNDAY PAPERS.

Some time since, Mayor Davidson's attention was called to the fact that the boys carrying the Sunday papers were making themselves very obnoxious about the churches on the Sabbath day, calling their papers vociferously, and even daring to enter the vestibules in order to effect sale of their wares. Two prominent ministers entered complaint to the mayor respecting the matter, and he, with his usual energy in all matters pertaining to his office, called the carriers to account, and gave them their orders as per the following, taken this morning from Mayor Davidson, by Manager Palmer:

"I informed the boys that they must quit crying their papers on Sunday in front of the churches and selling the same within the church vestibules, and that if they did not obey this order, I would see to it that they did not cry or deliver their papers on Sunday, and that John Rose could then distribute them as best he saw fit. I had warm complaints from two prominent

Manager Palmer was called up by phone by Mr. John Rose this morning, and after the latter had indulged in sneers in general against men who are doing duty from the standpoint of principle, desired to know whether or not we were ready to apologize for the lie we had published in the News Review the other day, respecting the calling or crying of Sunday papers, intimating that Mayor Davidson had given no such instructions about the Sunday papers. We had no special desire to be called a liar at long range, and shut the hostile youngster off, and then paid a visit to city hall and interviewed our courteous chief magistrate. Mayor Davidson had requested Mr. Criss McConnell, one of the most reliable reporters in this city, to make note of the bad conduct of the carriers about our churches, and give them fair warning, so that they would not repeat the offense in this city, and Mr. McConnell evidently misunderstood the mayor, and thought he intended to have the crying of Sunday papers cease altogether in East Liverpool.

Holiday Presents.

As the holidays draw near the anxious question with many is, "What presents shall I give?" Not the cost of the article, but the peculiar fitness it has to express some sentiment, awaken some memory or convey intelligence, is what guides in selection. The best gifts are those which contain most of the personality of the giver and are most appropriate to the condition and feelings of the recipient.

Where some recognition of the Christly relation can be expressed great value is added to the worth of the present. Not mere beauty of design and workmanship, not the rarity and cost of material, will cause it to be cherished, but the spiritual allusion, the subtle charm of reference to inner soul associations, will make it prized when more expensive offerings are forgotten.

Above all other things, make the Christmastide a time of remembering, the source of all its joys and the full fountain head of all abiding happiness. Aim to give joy that shall be permanent. Direct the thoughts and affection of your friends toward Him who is the incomparable gift. And, for yourself, "present your body a living sacrifice unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Do not let the haste and care of these days press out of mind the most precious things of life. Do not allow time and thought to be so overoccupied that there is no room for the reception of God's best gifts. Keep room for the Master and His love.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901.

A PESKY RODENT.

A nasty rat while at Akron. A loud-mouthed advocate of unionism when in East Liverpool.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

We have reference to the arc light supposed to illuminate the corners of Kossuth and Walnut streets. It has failed to effulge on several nights of late.

COWARDICE.

The charge of cowardice could be conclusively proven, in any court of plain justice in the land, against the West Pointers who put up a trained pugilist against a mere novice in the use of his fists.

WHO PAYS FOR THEM.

A local union office in this city, forced into the union, refused to publish the label of Typographical union No. 318, some time since, unless the local union paid for the same at so much an inch. It did not receive the advertisement.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

As usual, the local Police Gazette rushes into the arena and advocates the cause of sin, iniquity and Sabbath desecration. One good feature is the fact that those who are best acquainted with the evil reputation of the unsavory sheet do not believe anything it says.

CALL 'EM DOWN.

The men and women who hissed Congressman Driggs because the latter doubted the veracity of a cadet who possessed... a convenient memory, should have been ejected from the court. The cadet who will brutally haze a weak and helpless fellow student will not hesitate to lie about the matter.

TRADES COUNCIL.

Some few years since there came into the business office of the News Review a committee representing Trades Council, desiring to know what we would charge per inch for the publication of union labels in our paper. The answer was that we would not charge Trades Council a penny, and for years that body published a full column, free of charge. The lower region sheet did not publish a single label. Facts speak louder than bombast and bluff.

LICENSE FOR CHESTER.

And the Rum Devil is trying to force its hideous and foul presence upon the residents of the fair little town over the river, the pushing and progressive Chester. Wherever prosperity presents itself, there rushes the liquor league, eager to place licensed hell holes in position, for the purpose of robbing the workmen of their hard earned earnings, and robbing the wives and children in workmen's homes, and doing its level best to aid the boss of hades in peopling hell with victims of the Rum Demon. Every citizen of Chester should enter hot protest against the introduction and establishment of an accursed saloon in their midst.

LOCAL HISTORY.

The News Review has always been a union paper under the present management; union from the standpoint of principle; never rattled for a single hour or minute; always ready and eager to meet any legitimate claim made upon it by true and sober union officials or committees. We defy any man or body of men to successfully refute this assertion. A local sheet in this city was run as an out-and-out rat journal for a year and a half, under the ban of No. 318 Typographical union, and only came into the fold again when forced to on account of declining patronage—union from a pocket book consideration. The same delectable sheet desired to rat all offices in this city, and employ female compositors at the same rate as at Alliance, $3.75 per week, and the writer was the cause of the defeat of this project to use slave labor, asserting that any competent printer should not receive less than $12.00 per week. Best of all, we can prove this assertion to be plain truth.

THE RUM DEVIL.

He is but twenty-six years of age, yet fair to look upon, and yet a complete slave to the Rum Devil. He pawned a fine overcoat at Wheeling and secured just enough money on the garment to bring him to Wells-ville on the train. He walked from Wellsville to East Liverpool, entered a dive on Sixth street, secured a couple of drinks, and was then directed to the home of the writer, where he told a pitiful story of hard luck and struck us for a dollar. We failed to materialize on the cartwheel, but finally accompanied the prodigal to the depot, purchased a ticket for a point in the Beaver region, saw the lad seated in the cosy and comfortable passenger coach, slid the ticket into his hand, received profuse thanks for being, as he said, a good fellow, and then meandered back to our domicile on the hill, kicking ourselves all along the route for not permitting the boozier to work his passage home over the cross ties, on shank's mare, thus rendering him sober and repentant. Oh, the pity of it, that young men like the one described, bright and brainy, intended by nature to occupy positions of honor and trust, should lose all respect and manhood in consequence of the drink habit and the presence of the accursed saloon in our midst. God speed the day when this great government shall dissolve the partnership with the Rum Devil.

SUNDAY PAPERS.

Some time since, Mayor Davidson's attention was called to the fact that the boys carrying the Sunday papers were making themselves very obnoxious about the churches on the Sabbath day, calling their papers vociferously, and even daring to enter the vestibules in order to effect sale of their wares. Two prominent ministers entered complaint to the mayor respecting the matter, and he, with his usual energy in all matters pertaining to his office, called the carriers to account, and gave them their orders as per the following, taken this morning from Mayor Davidson, by Manager Palmer:

"I informed the boys that they must quit crying their papers on Sunday in front of the churches and selling the same within the church vestibules, and that if they did not obey this order, I would see to it that they did not cry or deliver their papers on Sunday, and that John Rose could then distribute them as best he saw fit. I had warm complaints from two prominent

Manager Palmer was called up by phone by Mr. John Rose this morning, and after the latter had indulged in sneers in general against men who are doing duty from the standpoint of principle, desired to know whether or not we were ready to apologize for the lie we had published in the News Review the other day, respecting the calling or crying of Sunday papers, intimating that Mayor Davidson had given no such instructions about the Sunday papers. We had no special desire to be called a liar at long range, and shut the hostile youngster off, and then paid a visit to city hall and interviewed our courteous chief magistrate. Mayor Davidson had requested Mr. Criss McConnell, one of the most reliable reporters in this city, to make note of the bad conduct of the carriers about our churches, and give them fair warning, so that they would not repeat the offense in this city, and Mr. McConnell evidently misunderstood the mayor, and thought he intended to have the crying of Sunday papers cease altogether in East Liverpool.

Holiday Presents.

As the holidays draw near the anxious question with many is, "What presents shall I give?" Not the cost of the article, but the peculiar fitness it has to express some sentiment, awaken some memory or convey intelligence, is what guides in selection. The best gifts are those which contain most of the personality of the giver and are most appropriate to the condition and feelings of the recipient.

Where some recognition of the Christly relation can be expressed great value is added to the worth of the present. Not mere beauty of design and workmanship, not the rarity and cost of material, will cause it to be cherished, but the spiritual allusion, the subtle charm of reference to inner soul associations, will make it prized when more expensive offerings are forgotten. Above all other things, make the Christmastide a time of remembering, the source of all its joys and the full fountain head of all abiding happiness. Aim to give joy that shall be permanent. Direct the thoughts and affection of your friends toward Him who is the incomparable gift. And, for yourself, "present your body a living sacrifice unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Do not let the haste and care of these days press out of mind the most precious things of life. Do not allow time and thought to be so overoccupied that there is no room for the reception of God's best gifts. Keep room for the Master and His love.

Kill The

MOVEMENT NOW ON FOOT

The good citizens of Chester are up

pass through the legislature a bill granting license for their prosperous suburb.

sent out:

Mass Meeting

Of the citizens of Chester this evening (Thursday) at 7:30. Some move is to be taken in regard to the proposed act in the legislature to gain license for Chester.

Let every worthy citizen come.

Yesterday a petition was circulated in Chester asking that the town be granted a license.

The citizens of Chester fully realize what this would mean to them and
a protest three times as large as the petition will be filed, and it will be signed by the best citizens of Chester.

The residents of the suburb have
no desire for the curse in their midst
and have seen enough crimes committed in Chester in the past year on account of the cursed stuff.

It would also mean increased taxes,
in the fact that more officers would
be needed to keep order. Hancock county is at present a Prohibition county and will remain that way if hard work and votes on the part of
Chester citizens can keep it so.

Let every citizens of Chester turn out this evening and by his presence
and voice lend a hand in keeping Chester out of the hands of the infamous liquor traffic.

SUNDERED.

O love, since you and I must walk apart,
Spare me one little corner of your heart—
A shrine
That shall be wholly mine!

Others may claim, and rightfully, the rest;
If there I know I am not dispossessed,
All bliss
I, eager, shall not miss.

And if so be you sometimes offer there,
Though but in thought, the fragment of a prayer,
No more
Can I, alas, implore!

But that is much and shall, forsooth, avail
To make my footsteps falter not nor fail,
Though far
Our pathways sundered are.

Then, love, since you and I must walk apart,
Spare me one little corner of your heart—
A shrine
That shall be wholly mine!

—Clinton Scollard in Harper's Bazar.

A FICKLE IMMIGRANT.

Her Experience With Two Lovers at Uncle Sam's Barge Office.

"There seem to be manifold opportunities among the immigrants coming to America on shipboard for falling in love, particularly on the slower steamers, when people are thrown together
for a period of from 12 to 18 days,"
says John Gilmer Speed in Ainslee's.
"In this case a worthy young Russian was cheated out of a very pretty bride
by a likely Italian fellow traveler of the maiden. Strangely enough, she knew not one word of Italian nor he a word of Russian, yet the bride's countryman was jilted, and the pantomime lovers were married and set forth gayly and confidently to learn
each other and the great new world they had entered at one and the same time.

"Another case was equally ludicrous.
A Swedish maiden of somewhat fickle
mind fell in love with a fellow voyager without apprising him of the fact that she was betrothed to another man whom she was to meet at the barge
office and marry. It was her intention

and outwit the former by a prior ceremony, but the red tape of the office prevented that, and the first lover came to welcome his bride. She then as promptly fell in love with No. 1. But when No. 2 pleaded and threatened,
she could not decide which one she loved the better, so she was detained while the two men haunted the barge
office, glaring at each other.

"When the detention time had elapsed, the bride, still not knowing her mind, was sent unceremoniously back on the same steamer that brought her over, both jilted lovers abandoning the field in despair. But on arriving on her native soil once more the maiden dared not face her people, so back she came, having just money enough to pay her passage, and sent for lover No.
1, declaring that she loved him the better. He replied that he was very much obliged, but as he had already married
a handsomer girl in the interval he was compelled to decline to come for her.
The maiden then sent word to No. 2 to like effect, but he declared that he had had enough of the fickle feminine, and thus in defeat the maiden was transported back again to face the leers and tears of her native hamlet."

Why He Wanted a Receipt.

There was a lawyer in the Indian country who had none too good a reputation for honesty, says the Chicago
News.

One of the aborigines employed him
to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it,"
replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason. "Since becoming a Christian I have been very careful in all my dealings that I may be ready for the judgment," answered the brave
sententiously, "and when that day comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and promptly delivered.

Cigars as Clefts.

"Valuable clefts toward the detection of criminals are obtained through an examination of cigar stubs," said a Scotland Yard detective. "This applies to those who smoke cigars, the stubs
of which they carelessly throw away
in the street or elsewhere.

"If you pick up any stub and examine it closely, you will be able to learn something as to the personality and social position of the man who threw it away. In the case of criminals the first point to be considered is the manner in which the end was cut off from the cigar. If a knife or any other instrument was used for this purpose,
then this instrument will doubtless be found on the criminal; if, on the other hand, it was bitten off with the teeth,
a thorough examination of the tip will show what kind of teeth were used for this purpose.

"A man with a row of even teeth will
bite off the end of his cigar squarely
and evenly, whereas one with jagged, uneven teeth will bite it unevenly and
in such a manner as to leave clearly visible the marks of his incisors. By comparing the marks on cigar stubs
with the teeth of suspected criminals prosecuting officers and detectives are able to obtain information which they could not possibly obtain any other way."—London Answers.

Thrive Without Meat.

It is the religion of nearly all Asiatics to abstain from eating flesh, fish or fowl, because it is a sin to kill for food anything that has instinct, "lest it be hindered on its upward way." Besides,
according to the doctrine of transmi-gration of souls, one might kill and eat one's grandmother. But, aside from that, vegetable food, it is claimed,
makes better muscle and bone than meat. Anyway, it is well known that the stevedores of Constantinople and other eastern ports never eat meat, and
that, as a class, they have no superiors anywhere in the world in physical strength.

A MASS MEETING TONIGHT

All Good Citizens Are Urged

Kill The

MOVEMENT NOW ON FOOT

The good citizens of Chester are up in arms over the proposed attempt to pass through the legislature a bill granting license for their prosperous
suburb.

Today the following notice was sent out:

Mass Meeting
Of the citizens of Chester this evening (Thursday) at 7:30. Some move
is to be taken in regard to the proposed act in the legislature to gain license for Chester.

Let every worthy citizen come.
Yesterday a petition was circulated
in Chester asking that the town be granted a license.
The citizens of Chester fully realize
what this would mean to them and
a protest three times as large as the
signed by the best citizens of Chester.

The residents of the suburb have
no desire for the curse in their midst
and have seen enough crimes committed in Chester in the past year on account of the cursed stuff.

It would also mean increased taxes,
in the fact that more officers would
be needed to keep order. Hancock county is at present a Prohibition
county and will remain that way if
hard work and votes on the part of
Chester citizens can keep it so.

Let every citizens of Chester turn
out this evening and by his presence
and voice lend a hand in keeping Chester out of the hands of the infamous liquor traffic.

O love, since you and I must walk apart,
Spare me one little corner of your heart—

Others may claim, and rightfully, the rest;
If there I know I am not dispossessed,
All bliss

And if so be you sometimes offer there,
Though but in thought, the fragment of a

No more

But that is much and shall, forsooth, avail

A FICKLE IMMIGRANT.

Uncle Sam's Barge Office.

"There seem to be manifold opportunities among the immigrants coming
to America on shipboard for falling in love, particularly on the slower steamers, when people are thrown together
for a period of from 12 to 18 days,"
says John Gilmer Speed in Ainslee's.
"In this case a worthy young Russian
was cheated out of a very pretty bride
by a likely Italian fellow traveler of
the maiden. Strangely enough, she knew not one word of Italian nor he
a word of Russian, yet the bride's countryman was jilted, and the pantomime lovers were married and set forth gayly and confidently to learn
each other and the great new world
they had entered at one and the same
time.

"Another case was equally ludicrous.
A Swedish maiden of somewhat fickle
mind fell in love with a fellow voyager without apprising him of the fact
that she was betrothed to another man
whom she was to meet at the barge
office and marry. It was her intention

and outwit the former by a prior ceremony, but the red tape of the office
prevented that, and the first lover came
to welcome his bride. She then as promptly fell in love with No. 1. But
when No. 2 pleaded and threatened,
she could not decide which one she loved the better, so she was detained
while the two men haunted the barge
office, glaring at each other.

"When the detention time had elap-ed, the bride, still not knowing her mind, was sent unceremoniously back
on the same steamer that brought her
over, both jilted lovers abandoning the field in despair. But on arriving on
her native soil once more the maiden
dared not face her people, so back she
came, having just money enough to
pay her passage, and sent for lover No.
1, declaring that she loved him the better. He replied that he was very much obliged, but as he had already married
a handsomer girl in the interval he was compelled to decline to come for her.
The maiden then sent word to No. 2 to
like effect, but he declared that he had
had enough of the fickle feminine, and
thus in defeat the maiden was transported back again to face the leers and
tears of her native hamlet."

Why He Wanted a Receipt.

There was a lawyer in the Indian country who had none too good a reputation for honesty, says the Chicago
News.

One of the aborigines employed him
to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the
fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly
demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it,"
replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason. "Since becoming
a Christian I have been very careful
in all my dealings that I may be ready
for the judgment," answered the brave
sententiously, "and when that day
comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and
promptly delivered.

Cigars as Clues.

"Valuable clues toward the detection of criminals are obtained through
an examination of cigar stubs," said a Scotland Yard detective. "This applies
to those who smoke cigars, the stubs
of which they carelessly throw away
in the street or elsewhere.

"If you pick up any stub and examine it closely, you will be able to learn something as to the personality and social position of the man who threw it
away. In the case of criminals the
first point to be considered is the manner in which the end was cut off from the cigar. If a knife or any other instrument was used for this purpose,
then this instrument will doubtless be
found on the criminal; if, on the other
hand, it was bitten off with the teeth,
a thorough examination of the tip will
show what kind of teeth were used for
this purpose.

bite off the end of his cigar squarely
and evenly, whereas one with jagged,
uneven teeth will bite it unevenly and
in such a manner as to leave clearly visible the marks of his incisors. By comparing the marks on cigar stubs
with the teeth of suspected criminals
prosecuting officers and detectives are able to obtain information which they could not possibly obtain any other way."—London Answers.

Thrive Without Meat.

It is the religion of nearly all Asiatic to abstain from eating flesh, fish or fowl, because it is a sin to kill for food
anything that has instinct, "lest it be hindered on its upward way." Besides,
according to the doctrine of transmi-
gration of souls, one might kill and eat
one's grandmother. But, aside from
that, vegetable food, it is claimed,
makes better muscle and bone than
meat. Anyway, it is well known that
the stevedores of Constantinople and
other eastern ports never eat meat, and
that, as a class, they have no superiors
anywhere in the world in physical strength.

LYNCHERS CONDEMNED

Kansas Legislature Calls For Their Punishment.

NEWSPAPERS FOR DEATH PENALTY.

Officials Defend Themselves and Several Said Another Girl Identified Alexander as Her Assailant—She Asserted That She Only Said He Looked Like the Man

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 17.—A joint resolution was passed by the legislature deploring and condemning the Leavenworth lynching. The resolution favors a most rigid investigation of all the acts and circumstances attending the lynching and demands that the perpetrators be punished to the full extent of the law.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 17.—Officials responsible for the life of Fred Alexander, the negro burned at the stake Tuesday evening in this city began the preparation of their defense. The negro's guilt of the assault and murder last November of Pearl Forbes, which he denied with his last breath, was, they say, proved conclusively by his statements while in the Lansing penitentiary. This evidence, it was asserted, will be gathered and published.

In addition, Sheriff Eeverhardy said that the report that Alexander assaulted a girl at Stillings, near here, is true, and that the young woman had appeared at the penitentiary before the start for Leavenworth and positively identified the negro as her assailant.

Sheriff Eeverhardy said in part: "Those who condemn me should place themselves in my position. I did my duty so far as lay within my power, but I was overwhelmed by superior numbers."

"I deplore the fact that Alexander was burned. I did my full duty as sheriff of Leavenworth county."

"I did not request state militia and am glad the troops did not arrive. If they had, there would have been several innocent lives lost."

Chief of Police Cranston, when asked Wednesday if any effort would be made to arrest the mob leaders, said:

"No, I think not. I know of no movement to arrest any one. I do not approve of the burning of Alexander, but he should have been hung. He outraged another girl aside from Miss Forbes, on Labor day, but nothing was known of it until lately. This girl was taken to the penitentiary yesterday and identified Alexander as her assailant. It is my opinion that he murdered Miss Forbes."

Probate Judge L. Hawn said: "There are some bad features about the affair, and I am sorry for it all. The burning part is too bad; it hurts the community. It was intended to give an object lesson, but hanging would have been better."

Many of the newspapers throughout the state joined in condemning the lynching, and called upon the legislature to enact a law promptly restoring capital punishment in Kansas.

The funeral of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake, took place and was attended only by the undertaker and his assistants. The remains were interred in the Potter's field. The coroner has impaneled a jury, which viewed the remains before interment, but he had not decided when he will hold an inquest. He is looking up evidence in the matter, but is unable to find any one who can testify in the case. Nothing has been done toward making any arrests, and when the mayor was asked if he would take any steps in the matter he answered:

Miss Thole, who, it is charged, was assaulted by Alexander and threatened with death if she said anything about it, stated to a reporter last night that the announcement that she had identified Alexander as her assailant was erroneous. Her statement is that Alexander looked like the man, but she was not positive about it.

Manila, Jan. 17.—The United States transport Buford arrived here from Wigon, on the northwest coast of the island of Luzon, last evening, with the Thirty-sixth regiment of infantry, U. S. V. The soldiers were to land today, camp on the Luneta and sail on the transport Pennsylvania for San Francisco probably Jan. 25. This regiment was the earliest organized of the present volunteers. Some of the men, it was expected, will join the new Manila police, under Provost Marshal General J. Franklin Bell, the original colonel of the Thirty-sixth regiment.

The United States transport Indiana, it was expected, will sail for San Francisco with sick soldiers on the return of the hospital ship Relief from Aparri.

Became Suddenly Ill and Died at Indianapolis—Retired From Office Monday.

Indianapolis, Jan. 17.—James A. Mount, who retired Monday at noon from the office of governor of the state of Indiana, died suddenly about 6:45 o'clock last night, in his apartment at the Denison hotel. He had attended a reception tendered by Mrs. Mount to a number of prominent ladies of the city during the afternoon, and shortly after the guests departed he started out for a walk. Upon his return he said nothing about being ill, and after removing his hat and overcoat sat down to read. In a few minutes he became suddenly ill and was dead when the doctor summoned listened for a heart beat.

In the room at the time of his death were Mrs. Mount, her niece, Senator and Mrs. Binckley, Mrs. John H. Baker, Attorney General Taylor and two physicians.

During the forenoon Mr. Mount visited the office of his former private secretary, and was in consultation with him for several hours. In the afternoon he made a speech before the Indiana State Wool Growers' association, and was elected president of the association, and again spent some time with Colonel Wilson.

Part of the time he spent in assisting in receiving his wife's guests. Three children, besides Mrs. Mount, are the surviving members of the family. The oldest child is Mrs. Charles Butler, who lives on a farm in Montgomery county, adjoining that of her father, Mrs. John W. Nicely, who is now at Beirut, Syria, and the Rev. Harry M. Mount, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Connersville, are the other children.

During his term of office Governor Mount was attacked several times by fainting spells, but none of them was serious.

Colonel Wilson, who was with him during his term of office, said last night, in part, that Governor Mount was worked to death. His close application to the duties of his office impaired his health.

Governor Mount expected to return to his farm in Montgomery county Friday.

The details of the funeral had not been arranged, but he will probably be buried Friday at his country home, near Shannondale, Montgomery county.

Scored Witness For Taking Part In Pitting of Fourth Class Men Against Well-Trained Upper Class Men—Brutal Hazing of MacArthur Brought Up.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Congressman Wanger, of Pennsylvania, before more testimony was taken, addressed the other congressional committeemen, and referred to the published reports of the hazing incident that occurred on Tuesday. Mr. Wanger said, in part, that in at least two newspapers army officers were charged with taking part in the hazing. He desired, however, to express his firm belief that no expression of disapprobation was made by an army officer present at the time. He was pleased to hear that Colonel Hein, acting superintendent of the academy, had instituted a thorough inquiry regarding the matter. Mr. Wanger said since the committeemen had been treated with the utmost courtesy by all the officers and he would be sorry should any erroneous impression become prevalent throughout the country.

General Dick and all the committeemen concurred with the views the Pennsylvania representative, and the matter was then dropped.

Cadet Birchie O. Mahaffey, of Texas, who was a classmate of former Cadet Booz was called and sworn.

During the course of his testimony the witness admitted that the purpose of calling out a fourth class man was to have him whipped. He had never heard of a fourth class man winning in a fist fight with a higher class man, but had known of such fights that were called draws.

Cadet Albert B. Dockery, of Missouri, said he had exercised young MacArthur, who was with five or six other fourth class men.

"What was the reason for hazing MacArthur?"

"For not bracing hard enough," replied Dockery.

"You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur and that he was sick; in fact, had convulsions after it?" said Mr. Driggs.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you think it was cruel?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, base, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill famed, nefarious, odious, scandalous, shameful, shameless, villainous and wicked," said Mr. Driggs, and the torrent of adjectives almost took away Dockery's breath.

Judge Smith got Dockery to admit that when he found MacArthur was ill he felt anxious.

"Instead of exercising this young man to such a degree why did you not give him a chance to fight?" asked General Dick. "He could have fought instead of hazing. Can you think of anything more cruel than to exercise a man into convulsions?"

"No, sir."

"Was anything said about it?"

General Dick then made the witness admit that he was worried and went to MacArthur's tent. It was dark and he could just see MacArthur lying still on his bed and that fearing detection, MacArthur was allowed to lie there without medical aid.

"Then you and the others who took part in the hazing of MacArthur were afraid to report his serious condition, fearing that by doing so the facts would become known to the authorities and you would be dismissed from the military academy?"

"Yes, sir."

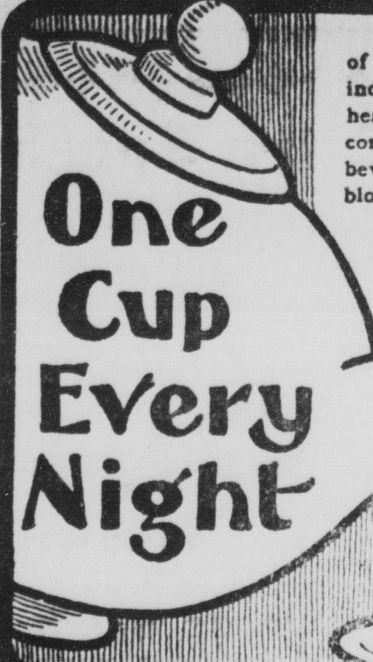

General Dick switched to the methods of calling out fourth class men and pitting them against well trained upper class men. He warned the witness against the practice and scored him for taking part in unmanly methods of practically forcing a new comer to sure defeat and a sound drubbing at the hands of a picked upper class man. The witness was then allowed to go.

Cadet John C. Pegram, of Virginia, during the course of his testimony, said he fought with F. M. Smith, of the third class, in the barracks on Nov. 5 last. He was awarded the fight on a foul and was in the hospital for a week after.

LYNCHERS CONDEMNED

Kansas Legislature Calls For Their Punishment.

NEWSPAPERS FOR DEATH PENALTY.

Officials Defend Themselves and Several Said Another Girl Identified Alexander as Her Assailant—She Asserted That She Only Said He Looked Like the Man

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 17.—A joint resolution was passed by the legislature deploring and condemning the Leavenworth lynching. The resolution favors a most rigid investigation of all the acts and circumstances attending the lynching and demands that the perpetrators be punished to the full extent of the law.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 17.—Officials responsible for the life of Fred Alexander, the negro burned at the stake Tuesday evening in this city began the preparation of their defense. The negro's guilt of the assault and murder last November of Pearl Forbes, which he denied with his last breath, was, they say, proved conclusively by his statements while in the Lansing penitentiary. This evidence, it was asserted, will be gathered and published.

In addition, Sheriff Beverhardy said that the report that Alexander assaulted a girl at Stillings, near here, is true, and that the young woman had appeared at the penitentiary before the start for Leavenworth and positively identified the negro as her assailant.

Sheriff Beverhardy said in part: "Those who condemn me should place themselves in my position. I did my duty so far as lay within my power, but I was overwhelmed by superior numbers."

"I deplore the fact that Alexander was burned. I did my full duty as sheriff of Leavenworth county."

"I did not request state militia and am glad the troops did not arrive. If they had, there would have been several innocent lives lost."

Chief of Police Cranston, when asked Wednesday if any effort would be made to arrest the mob leaders said:

"No, I think not. I know of no movement to arrest any one. I do not approve of the burning of Alexander, but he should have been hung. He outraged another girl aside from Miss Forbes, on Labor day, but nothing was known of it until lately. This girl was taken to the penitentiary yesterday and identified Alexander as her assailant. It is my opinion that he murdered Miss Forbes."

Probate Judge L. Hawn said: "There are some bad features about the affair, and I am sorry for it all. The burning part is too bad; it hurts the community. It was intended to give an object lesson, but hanging would have been better."

Many of the newspapers throughout the state joined in condemning the lynching, and called upon the legislature to enact a law promptly restoring capital punishment in Kansas.

The funeral of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake, took place and was attended only by the undertaker and his assistants. The remains were interred in the Potter's field. The coroner has impaneled a jury, which viewed the remains before interment, but he had not decided when he will hold an inquest. He is looking up evidence in the matter, but is unable to find any one who can testify in the case. Nothing has been done toward making any arrests, and when the mayor was asked if he would take any steps in the matter he answered:

Miss Thole, who, it is charged, was assaulted by Alexander and threatened with death if she said anything about it, stated to a reporter last night that the announcement that she had identified Alexander as her assailant was erroneous. Her statement is that Alexander looked like the man, but she was not positive about it.

LYNCHERS CONDEMNED

Kansas Legislature Calls For Their Punishment.

NEWSPAPERS FOR DEATH PENALTY.

Officials Defend Themselves and Several Said Another Girl Identified Alexander as Her Assailant—She Asserted That She Only Said He Looked Like the Man

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 17.—A joint resolution was passed by the legislature deploring and condemning the Leavenworth lynching. The resolution favors a most rigid investigation of all the acts and circumstances attending the lynching and demands that the perpetrators be punished to the full extent of the law.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 17.—Officials responsible for the life of Fred Alexander, the negro burned at the stake Tuesday evening in this city began the preparation of their defense. The negro's guilt of the assault and murder last November of Pearl Forbes, which he denied with his last breath, was, they say, proved conclusively by his statements while in the Lansing penitentiary. This evidence, it was asserted, will be gathered and published.

In addition, Sheriff Everhardy said that the report that Alexander assaulted a girl at Stillings, near here is true, and that the young woman had appeared at the penitentiary before the start for Leavenworth and positively identified the negro as her assailant.

Sheriff Everhardy said in part: "Those who condemn me should place themselves in my position. I did my duty so far as lay within my power, but I was overwhelmed by superior numbers."

"I deplore the fact that Alexander was burned. I did my full duty as sheriff of Leavenworth county. "I did not request state militia and am glad the troops did not arrive. If they had, there would have been several innocent lives lost."

Chief of Police Cranston, when asked Wednesday if any effort would be made to arrest the mob leaders said:

"No, I think not. I know of no movement to arrest any one. I do not approve of the burning of Alexander, but he should have been hung. He outraged another girl aside from Miss Forbes, on Labor day, but nothing was known of it until lately. This girl was taken to the penitentiary yesterday and identified Alexander as her assailant. It is my opinion that he murdered Miss Forbes."

Probate Judge L. Hawn said: "There are some bad features about the affair, and I am sorry for it. The burning part is too bad; it hurts the community. It was intended to give an object lesson, but hanging would have been better."

Many of the newspapers throughout the state joined in condemning the lynching, and called upon the legislature to enact a law promptly restoring capital punishment in Kansas.

The funeral of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake, took place and was attended only by the undertaker and his assistants. The remains were interred in the Potter's field. The coroner has impounded a jury, which viewed the remains before interment, but he had not decided when he will hold an inquest. He is looking up evidence in the matter, but is unable to find any one who can testify in the case. Nothing has been done toward making any arrests, and when the mayor was asked if he would take any steps in the matter he answered:

Miss Thole, who, it is charged, was assaulted by Alexander and threatened with death if she said anything about it, stated to a reporter last night that the announcement that she had identified Alexander as her assailant was erroneous. Her statement is that Alexander looked like the man, but she was not positive about it.

EX-GOV. MOUNT DEAD.

Became Suddenly Ill and Died at Indianapolis—Retired From Office Monday.

Indianapolis, Jan. 17.—James A. Mount, who retired Monday at noon from the office of governor of the state of Indiana, died suddenly about 6:45 o'clock last night, in his apartments at the Denison hotel. He had attended a reception tendered by Mrs. Mount to a number of prominent ladies of the city during the afternoon, and shortly after the guests departed he started out for a walk. Upon his return he said nothing about being ill, and after removing his hat and overcoat sat down to read. In a few minutes he became suddenly ill and was dead when the doctor summoned listened for a heart beat.

In the room at the time of his death were Mrs. Mount, her niece, Senator and Mrs. Binckley, Mrs. John H. Baker, Attorney General Taylor and two physicians.

During the forenoon Mr. Mount visited the office of his former private secretary, and was in consultation with him for several hours. In the afternoon he made a speech before the Indiana State Wool Growers' association, and was elected president of the association, and again spent some time with Colonel Wilson.

Part of the time he spent in assisting in receiving his wife's guests.

Three children, besides Mrs. Mount, are the surviving members of the family. The oldest child is Mrs. Charles Butler, who lives on a farm in Montgomery county, adjoining that of her father, Mrs. John W. Nicely, who is now at Beirut, Syria, and the Rev. Harry M. Mount, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Connersville, are the other children.

During his term of office Governor Mount was attacked several times by fainting spells, but none of them was serious.

Colonel Wilson, who was with him during his term of office, said last night, in part, that Governor Mount was worked to death. His close application to the duties of his office impaired his health.

Governor Mount expected to return to his farm in Montgomery county Friday.

The details of the funeral had not been arranged, but he will probably be buried Friday at his country home, near Shannondale, Montgomery county.

CADET HOTLY SCORED.

Judge Smith Flung Adjectives at Dockery.

DICK GAVE HIM A WARNING.

Scored Witness For Taking Part in Pitting of Fourth Class Men Against Well-Trained Upper Class Men—Brutal Hazing of MacArthur Brought Up.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Congressman Wanger, of Pennsylvania, before more testimony was taken, addressed the other congressional committeemen, and referred to the published reports of the hazing incident that occurred on Tuesday. Mr. Wanger said, in part, that in at least two newspapers army officers were charged with taking part in the hazing. He desired, however, to express his firm belief that no expression of disapprobation was made by an army officer present at the time. He was pleased to hear that Colonel Hein, acting superintendent of the academy, had instituted a thorough inquiry regarding the matter. Mr. Wanger said since the committeemen had been treated with the utmost courtesy by all the officers and he would be sorry should any erroneous impression become prevalent throughout the country.

General Dick and all the committeemen concurred with the views the Pennsylvania representative, and the matter was then dropped.

Cadet Birchie O. Mahaffey, of Texas, who was a classmate of former Cadet Booz was called and sworn.

During the course of his testimony the witness admitted that the purpose of calling out a fourth class man was to have him whipped. He had never heard of a fourth class man winning in a fist fight with a higher class man, but had known of such fights that were called draws.

Cadet Albert B. Dockery, of Missouri, said he had exercised young MacArthur, who was with five or six other fourth class men.

"What was the reason for hazing MacArthur?"

"For not bracing hard enough," replied Dockery.

"You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur and that he was sick; in fact, had convulsions after it?" said Mr. Driggs.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you think it was cruel?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, base, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill famed, nefarious, odious, scandalous, shameful, shameless, villainous and wicked," said Mr. Driggs, and the torrent of adjectives almost took away Dockery's breath.

Judge Smith got Dockery to admit that when he found MacArthur was ill he felt anxious.

"Instead of exercising this young man to such a degree why did you not give him a chance to fight?" asked General Dick. "He could have fought instead of hazing. Can you think of anything more cruel than to exercise a man into convulsions?"

"No, sir."

"Was anything said about it?"

General Dick then made the witness admit that he was worried and went to MacArthur's tent. It was dark and he could just see MacArthur lying still on his bed and that fearing detection, MacArthur was allowed to lie there without medical aid.

"Then you and the others who took part in the hazing of MacArthur were afraid to report his serious condition, fearing that by doing so the facts would become known to the authorities and you would be dismissed from the military academy?"

"Yes, sir."

General Dick switched to the methods of calling out fourth class men and pitting them against well trained upper class men. He warned the witness against the practice and scored him for taking part in unmanly methods of practically forcing a new comer to sure defeat and a sound drubbing at the hands of a picked upper class man. The witness was then allowed to go.

Cadet John C. Pegram, of Virginia, during the course of his testimony, said he fought with F. M. Smith, of the third class, in the barracks on Nov. 5 last. He was awarded the fight on a foul and was in the hospital for a week after.

NOT NOW DEMOCRATS.

Those Who Aided Quay Expelled From Party.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT WASHBURN.

Joint Caucus of Most Pennsylvania Democratic Legislators Requested Speaker Not to Regard as Democrats Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin, Galvin.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—At a joint caucus of the senate and house Democrats these resolutions were adopted: "Whereas, William J. Galvin, of the first legislative district of Schuylkill county, was elected last November as a Democrat and pledged to represent faithfully a Democratic constituency; and

"Whereas, The said Galvin has basely betrayed his constituents, as well as the county and state organization of the Democratic party, first by voting for W. T. Marshall for speaker of the house and again by voting for M. S. Quay for the United States senate, be it therefore

"Resolved, That we denounce the said William J. Galvin as a traitor to his party, an enemy to good government, a man utterly unworthy of respect, and one who should never again be entrusted with any position of honor, profit or responsibility.

"Resolved, That the action of A. H. Squier, of Wyoming county, who permitted himself to be counted as paired on the vote for senator with a man who was not a member of the house, and at a time when no arrangement whatever had been made for pairing, thus playing into the hands of the enemy, deserves the unqualified condemnation of every loyal Democrat, and such act should force said Squier into political exile.

"Resolved, That ex-Rev. Washburn, who misrepresents the Fiftieth senatorial district, and who for years has been most violent in denouncing Quay and Quayism from the pulpit and platform, has by his treachery to his constituents and by his perfidious betrayal of the three political parties which he has disgraced earned the scorn and contempt of every man, woman and child in the state of Pennsylvania.

"Resolved, That Harry B. Shutt, John B. Kain, L. S. Fake, S. H. Rothrock, William J. Galvin and Madison A. Garvin, who voted for or aided indirectly in the Quay organization of the house, did not only with the full knowledge that they were directly aiding the election of M. S. Quay to the United States senate, but in so doing they basely betrayed their party, retarded the advance of reforms much desired by the truly loyal people of the commonwealth, and deserve our unqualified condemnation.

"Resolved, That we respectfully request the speaker of the house in making up his committees not to regard Messrs. Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin and Galvin as Democrats."

None of the Democrats against whom the resolutions are directed was present except Representative Samuel H. Rothrock, of Mifflin, Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, presided.

The resolutions were offered by Representative Palm, of Crawford, and originally did not name Messrs. Rothrock, Shutt, Kain, Fake and Garvin.

Representative Cotter, of McKean, moved that their names be inserted, and the motion carried.

Mr. Fisher, of Northumberland, suggested that action be postponed on the resolutions, that the Democrats may have more time to consider the matter, but this was not done, and the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—Senator M. S. Quay left Wednesday morning for Washington, in company with his daughter, Miss Cora, and Private Secretary Wright. Edgar C. Gerwig, private secretary to Governor Stone, started to Washington Wednesday afternoon with the senator's commission. Mr. Quay expected to qualify today as a senator and then return to Harrisburg and direct the passage of the reform bills to which the Quay Republicans are committed.

The senate and house met jointly at noon Wednesday and verified the vote for senator at Tuesday's session, after which Lieutenant Governor Gobin formally declared Mr. Quay's election. Both bodies will meet today and compute the vote at the last general election for auditor general and congressman-at-large. A recess, it was expected, will be taken after this formality until Monday evening to allow the presiding officers to complete their committee assignments. The standing committees will probably be announced at Monday evening's session. The representatives of the senate and house Republican state committees were expected to be submitted and confirmed at the same time.

Speaker Marshall received a telegram Wednesday from a party of Pittsburgh manufacturers and business men requesting him to invite Governor Stone, Senators Quay and Penrose and the members of the legislature who voted for Mr. Quay to attend a banquet to be given in his honor at the Hotel Schenley, Pittsburgh, at a time to be fixed later.

THE POPE PLEASED.

Spoke With Satisfaction of a Letter From the Czar Replying to His Thanks.

Rome, Jan. 17.—The pope, in the course of private conversation with members of the sacred college, spoke with great satisfaction of the letter from Emperor Nicholas replying to the pope's thanks for the protection of the Catholic mission in Manchuria. The czar, whose answer was couched in the most sympathetic terms, said the Russian troops had obeyed orders given directly by himself.

DEFENDANTS TESTIFIED.

McAllister, Campbell and Death Told About the Same Story, at the Murder Trial.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 17.—In the Jennie Bosschler murder trial Judge Hoffman, for the defense, said: "Your honor, we wish to have one of the state's witnesses, Sculthorpe, returned to the stand for a further cross-examination." Sculthorpe was not present, and a court officer was sent after him.

Michael Dunn then outlined the defense in his speech to the jury.

McAllister, Death and Campbell were each on the stand. Their testimony was on the line that they were acting on a generous impulse when they took the girl out of the saloon to the hack. They claimed that she was "jolly drunk" for a time in the back room of Saal's saloon; said she was joking and laughing after the first drink; that she became "dopy" after taking the absinthe and then became dead drunk. They had thought a drive in the fresh air would do her good and had taken her across the river out into the country. The assault was denied. They had lifted the girl out of the hack because she was sick and they had conducted themselves like humanitarians in their efforts to bring her back to her senses. They had taken her to the brook to obtain water. They would have taken her home after she was dead, as the hackman suggested, but when they reached the neighborhood they saw persons about.

They maintained that they had no evil intentions against the girl. The meeting in the saloon was unintentional, so far as McAllister was concerned, and he had drawn his friend Kerr into the case unwittingly. Campbell became mixed up in it because Death didn't want to be seen on the street with the girl lest some one would tell his wife.

The stories conflicted with the testimony of the hackman, and the alleged confessions of Death and Campbell were introduced by the state and admitted as evidence. The state, which was beaten Tuesday in the effort to introduce the confession said to have been made by Campbell, succeeded in getting it all in Wednesday. Other witnesses also testified.

VOTING TIME CHOSEN.

Agreement Reached to Vote on Army Bill Friday—West Point Hazing Denounced.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The final vote upon the pending army reorganization bill will be taken by the senate at 4 o'clock Friday, under the terms of an agreement reached late Wednesday. Speeches in opposition to the bill were delivered Wednesday by Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), Mr. Teller (Silver Rep., Colo.) and Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.). Mr. McCumber (Rep., N. D.) made an argument in support of the measure. The feature of the debate was the denunciation of the practice of hazing at the West Point military academy. Mr. Allen, Mr. Money, of Mississippi, and Mr. McCumber declared it to be an evidence of brutality and cowardice, the Mississippi senator maintaining that a cadet whom others attempted to haze would be justified in killing his assailants. He declared that if he were a cadet upon whom such cowardly brutality were attempted he would kill those who assaulted him if he had to wait a hundred years for the opportunity.

PASSED IN THE HOUSE.

River and Harbor Bill Adopted, Carrying Less Than $60,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed by the house. The bill had been under consideration over a week and had been assailed from many quarters, but its friends stood solidly by it, and defeated every amendment to which the river and harbor committee would not agree. The bill passed as it came from the committee, with some changes. It carried slightly less than $60,000,000, of which $23,000,000 is in direct appropriations.

The friends of the Missouri river improvement, although they were unsuccessful in securing what they desired, persuaded Chairman Burton to offer an amendment to permit owners of property abutting on the Missouri to build dykes and wing dams for its protection where such structures do not interfere with the navigation of the stream. The section empowering the president to negotiate with Great Britain for the maintenance of suitable levels on the great lakes was broadened so as to provide for a joint commission to conduct the negotiations.

A BANK ROBBED.

Safe Blown Open and $300 Carried Away by Thieves, at Rochester, Pa.

Rochester, Pa., Jan. 17.—The banking house of John Conway & Co. was entered and the safe blown open. Besides the $300 which the safe contained the robbers carried away certain valuable papers. Entrance to the bank was gained through a rear door.

The safe had three heavy doors, which had to be blown open before the cash could be reached, but all three doors were disposed of without letting anyone in the neighborhood become aware of the fact. The family of Mr. Conway, living next door, did not hear a sound during the night.

TO ESTABLISH JURY TRIALS.

Governor Allen Signed First Bill Passed by Porto Rican Legislature.

San Juan, P. R., Jan. 17.—Governor Allen signed the first bill passed by both houses of the Porto Rican legislature, providing for the establishment of jury trials.

A bill appropriating $10,000 for a Porto Rican exhibit at the Pan-American exhibition to be held at Buffalo has passed both houses.

He served two terms in congress and was comptroller of the currency during the second Cleveland administration. Later he went to England and made an exhaustive study of the income tax question.

To Consider Educational Bill.

Manila, Jan. 17.—Further hearing on the educational bill has been postponed until Monday in order to give the commissioners opportunity to consider privately the proposed amendments to the measure.

They had taken her to the brook to obtain water. They would have taken her home after she was dead, as the hackman suggested, but when they reached the neighborhood they saw persons about.

They maintained that they had no evil intentions against the girl. The meeting in the saloon was unintentional, so far as McAllister was concerned, and he had drawn his friend Kerr into the case unwittingly. Campbell became mixed up in it because Death didn't want to be seen on the street with the girl lest some one would tell his wife.

The stories conflicted with the testimony of the hackman, and the alleged confessions of Death and Campbell were introduced by the state and admitted as evidence. The state, which was beaten Tuesday in the effort to introduce the confession said to have been made by Campbell, succeeded in getting it all in Wednesday. Other witnesses also testified.

VOTING TIME CHOSEN.

Agreement Reached to Vote on Army Bill Friday—West Point Hazing Denounced.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The final vote upon the pending army reorganization bill will be taken by the senate at 4 o'clock Friday, under the terms of an agreement reached late Wednesday. Speeches in opposition to the bill were delivered Wednesday by Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), Mr. Teller (Silver Rep., Colo.) and Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.). Mr. McCumber (Rep., N. D.) made an argument in support of the measure. The feature of the debate was the denunciation of the practice of hazing at the West Point military academy. Mr. Allen, Mr. Money, of Mississippi, and Mr. McCumber declared it to be an evidence of brutality and cowardice, the Mississippi senator maintaining that a cadet whom others attempted to haze would be justified in killing his assailants. He declared that if he were a cadet upon whom such cowardly brutality were attempted he would kill those who assaulted him if he had to wait a hundred years for the opportunity.

PASSED IN THE HOUSE.

River and Harbor Bill Adopted, Carrying Less Than $60,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed by the house. The bill had been under consideration over a week and had been assailed from many quarters, but its friends stood solidly by it, and defeated every amendment to which the river and harbor committee would not agree. The bill passed as it came from the committee, with some changes. It carried slightly less than $60,000,000, of which $23,000,000 is in direct appropriations.

The friends of the Missouri river improvement, although they were unsuccessful in securing what they desired, persuaded Chairman Burton to offer an amendment to permit owners of property abutting on the Missouri to build dykes and wing dams for its protection where such structures do not interfere with the navigation of the stream. The section empowering the president to negotiate with Great Britain for the maintenance of suitable levels on the great lakes was broadened so as to provide for a joint commission to conduct the negotiations.

NOT NOW DEMOCRATS.

Those Who Aided Quay Expelled From Party.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT WASHBURN.

Joint Caucus of Most Pennsylvania Democratic Legislators Requested Speaker Not to Regard as Democrats Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin, Galvin.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—At a joint caucus of the senate and house Democrats these resolutions were adopted: "Whereas, William J. Galvin, of the First legislative district of Schuylkill county, was elected last November as a Democrat and pledged to represent faithfully a Democratic constituency; and

"Whereas, The said Galvin has basely betrayed his constituents, as well as the county and state organization of the Democratic party, first by voting for W. T. Marshall for speaker of the house and again by voting for M. S. Quay for the United States senate, be it therefore

"Resolved, That we denounce the said William J. Galvin as a traitor to his party, an enemy to good government, a man utterly unworthy of respect, and one who should never again be entrusted with any position of honor, profit or responsibility.

"Resolved, That the action of A. H. Squier, of Wyoming county, who permitted himself to be counted as paired on the vote for senator with a man who was not a member of the house, and at a time when no arrangement whatever had been made for pairing, thus playing into the hands of the enemy, deserves the unqualified condemnation of every loyal Democrat, and such act should force said Squier into political exile.

"Resolved, That ex-Rev. Washburn, who misrepresents the Fiftieth senatorial district, and who for years has been most violent in denouncing Quay and Quayism from the pulpit and platform, has by his treachery to his constituents and by his perfidious betrayal of the three political parties which he has disgraced earned the scorn and contempt of every man, woman and child in the state of Pennsylvania.

"Resolved, That Harry B. Shutt, John B. Kain, L. S. Fake, S. H. Rothrock, William J. Galvin and Madison A. Garvin, who voted for or aided indirectly in the Quay organization of the house, did not only with the full knowledge that they were directly aiding the election of M. S. Quay to the United States senate, but in so doing they basely betrayed their party, retarded the advance of reforms much desired by the truly loyal people of the commonwealth, and deserve our unqualified condemnation.

"Resolved, That we respectfully request the speaker of the house in making up his committees not to regard Messrs. Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin and Galvin as Democrats."

None of the Democrats against whom the resolutions are directed was present except Representative Samuel H. Rothrock, of Mifflin, Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, president.

The resolutions were offered by Representative Palm, of Crawford, and originally did not name Messrs. Rothrock, Shutt, Kain, Fake and Garvin.

Representative Cotter, of McKean, moved that their names be inserted, and the motion carried.

Mr. Fisher, of Northumberland, suggested that action be postponed on the resolutions, that the Democrats may have more time to consider the matter, but this was not done, and the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—Senator M. S. Quay left Wednesday morning for Washington, in company with his daughter, Miss Cora, and Private Secretary Wright. Edgar C. Gerwig, private secretary to Governor Stone, started to Washington Wednesday afternoon with the senator's commission. Mr. Quay expected to qualify today as a senator and then return to Harrisburg and direct the passage of the reform bills to which the Quay Republicans are committed.

The senate and house met jointly at noon Wednesday and verified the vote for senator at Tuesday's session, after which Lieutenant Governor Gobin formally declared Mr. Quay's election. Both bodies will meet today and compute the vote at the last general election for auditor general and congressman-at-large. A recess, it was expected, will be taken after this formality until Monday evening to allow the presiding officers to complete their committee assignments. The standing committees will probably be announced at Monday evening's session. The representatives of the senate and house Republican state committees were expected to be submitted and confirmed at the same time.

Speaker Marshall received a telegram Wednesday from a party of Pittsburg manufacturers and business men requesting him to invite Governor Stone, Senators Quay and Penrose and the members of the legislature who voted for Mr. Quay to attend a banquet to be given in his honor at the Hotel Schenley, Pittsburg, at a time to be fixed later.

THE POPE PLEASED.

Spoke With Satisfaction of a Letter From the Czar Replying to His Thanks.

Rome, Jan. 17.—The pope, in the course of private conversation with members of the sacred college, spoke with great satisfaction of the letter from Emperor Nicholas replying to the pope's thanks for the protection of the Catholic mission in Manchuria. The czar, whose answer was couched in the most sympathetic terms, said the Russian troops had obeyed orders given directly by himself.

DEFENDANTS TESTIFIED.

McAllister, Campbell and Death Told About the Same Story, at the Murder Trial.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 17.—In the Jennie Bosschler murder trial Judge Hoffman, for the defense, said: "Your honor, we wish to have one of the state's witnesses, Sculthorpe, returned to the stand for a further cross-examination." Sculthorpe was not present, and a court officer was sent after him.

Michael Dunn then outlined the defense in his speech to the jury.

McAllister, Death and Campbell were each on the stand. Their testimony was on the line that they were acting on a generous impulse when they took the girl out of the saloon to the hack. They claimed that she was "jolly drunk" for a time in the back room of Saal's saloon; said she was joking and laughing after the first drink; that she became "dopy" after taking the absinthe and then became dead drunk. They had thought a drive in the fresh air would do her good and had taken her across the river out into the country. The assault was denied. They had lifted the girl out of the hack because she was sick and they had conducted themselves like humanitarians in their efforts to bring her back to her senses. They had taken her to the brook to obtain water. They would have taken her home after she was dead, as the hackman suggested, but when they reached the neighborhood they saw persons about.

They maintained that they had no evil intentions against the girl. The meeting in the saloon was unintentional, so far as McAllister was concerned, and he had drawn his friend Kerr into the case unwittingly. Campbell became mixed up in it because Death didn't want to be seen on the street with the girl lest some one would tell his wife.

The stories conflicted with the testimony of the hackman, and the alleged confessions of Death and Campbell were introduced by the state and admitted as evidence. The state, which was beaten Tuesday in the effort to introduce the confession said to have been made by Campbell, succeeded in getting it all in Wednesday. Other witnesses also testified.

WAS HIS COUSIN

WHOM HE HAD NOT SEEN FOR 12 YEARS.

A Slav Appeared at the Fire Station And Asked for a Bed.

John Fallet, a Slav, appeared at the fire station about 8 o'clock last night and asked Fireman Terrence if he would allow him to stay at the station over night. Fallet stated that he was not a hobo, and had been working at the mills at Sharon and had walked from Youngstown yesterday and was on his way to Mingo, where he had relatives and expected to get work.

Mr. Terrence told him he had no place where he could keep him, but he would try and find him a place. He sent for George Kohert, a Slav, who resides near the fire station, who came over and talked to Fallet. After talking a short time he looked at Mr. Terrence with a smile and stated that Fallet was his cousin, whom he had not seen for over twelve years.

He took him to his home, where he spent the night and this morning he left for Mingo.

The Steer Escaped.

George Smith, a butcher from the city, yesterday went to the Allison farm, about one and one-half miles from the East End, for the purpose of killing a steer which he had purchased from Mr. Allison. The steer was secured by two ropes, which were tied about its neck, and Smith had just got it in a position to hit it in the head when it broke away and ran to the rear of the farm, where it was found this morning by Mr. Allison.

Smith made another attempt to kill the steer this afternoon, but it is not known whether he succeeded.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 187.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1901.

USUAL RESULT OF FORTUNE HUNTERS

All the Stories Told About Immense Fortunes Awaiting Claimants Are Usually

VERY MUCH OVERDRAWN

One Case Was Investigated and the Party Found That 75 Cents

WAS HELD FOR THE HEIRS

East Liverpool is a splendid town to find people who have large fortunes waiting for them in various parts of the world and nearly every other month the story of a new fortune is printed.

How much truth there is in most of the stories is shown by one case which a prominent attorney of the city investigated for his own satisfaction.

One day a gentleman walked into his office and the trend of the conversation turned to imaginary fortunes. The gentleman stated that a rich aunt of his had died in Covington a short time before and had left an estate valued at $75,000 which her heirs were preparing to claim. After the gentleman went out the attorney decided to investigate and wrote to an attorney friend in Covington.

In a few days he received a letter stating that the lady had died leaving an estate worth about $250, and that after the funeral expenses had been paid there remained in the neighborhood of 75 cents, which was being held awaiting the claimant.

The attorney decided at once there was nothing in the fortune stories, and thinks this case is an exception, inasmuch as there was 75 cents waiting for the heirs.

HAD AN ACCIDENT.

OWEN STEPPED IN SOME BOILING WATER.

His Leg Was Badly Scalded, And He Will Not Work for a Few Days.

Hugh Owen, a kiln hand employed at the new end of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, met with a painful accident this morning while placing some stillards in position. The stillards are very heavy, and in reaching up Owen lost his balance. He stepped back in order to regain it and stepped in a barrel of boiling water and had his leg badly scalded. The barrel is sunk in the floor, about four inches of the barrel being above the floor.

He will be unable to resume his duties for several days. His home is in Steubenville.

NO VERDICT.

SQUIRE ROSE DEFINITELY DECIDES IN CHRISTIE INQUEST.

Says That After Consultation He Is Convinced No Inquest Was Held.

Squire Rose stated today that he was convinced, after consulting the law and the decision of the attorney general of the state in reference to inquests, and after consultation with disinterested attorneys of our city, that the inquest or inquiry held upon upon the body of James Christie was unlawful and unwarranted by the law, hence there was no inquest held, and no verdict could be rendered under the law.

There was no question as to the cause of Christie's death, as it was simply an accident and the public well knew it. It was not fair to ask Squire Rose to locate the blame on any person or company, even if any blame could be attached to them.

SMALL FIRE.

The Department Was Called to the Home of Neisson Smith Last Night.

An alarm of fire called the fire department to the home of Neisson Smith on Sarah street. The blaze started from a grate and had been extinguished before the fire department arrived.

The department was compelled to hook four horses to the wagons in order to get up the hill on Lincoln avenue.

NEXT WEEK'S ASSIGNMENTS

An Unusually Large Number of Cases Have Been Set For Trial.

SOME EAST LIVERPOOL ACTIONS

Are In the List but They Are Only Minor Suits and May

BE VERY EASILY DISPOSED OF

Lisbon, Jan. 18.—(Special.)—The following assignment was made this morning for the first week of the January term of court, which opens on the 28th:

To the Public and to All Union Men.

The so-called Pressmen's label, now being used by men who call themselves unionists in this city, is a fraud and a cheat and a swindle.

The International Typographical Union label is the only label in use in the city of Pittsburg. The Allied label has never been used in Pittsburg with the sanction of Typographical Union No. 7. An agreement had been entered into between the unions, and Secretary Cully, of No. 7, had ordered Allied labels, and some of them were given out in the city; but the action was never ratified, and the labels were called in by No. 7. No. 7 paid for the labels.

The label used by so-called unionists in this city is obsolete, and has never been used in Pittsburg city, save on one occasion, when work was done for the contemplated Amalgamated Unions, and it was thought best to use the two labels on that occasion.

We ring out merry defiance to the man who has lied like a trooper to pressmen in this city, and to the public at large.

The secretary of the Pressmen's Union in Pittsburg, in company with Secretary Cully, of Typographical union No. 7, Pittsburg, unite with us in the statement that the International Union label, as published in the News Review, is the only legal and authorized label, and it covers all union products of that city. We will produce any proof desired by any true unionists in this city. For cheats and swindlers we have no use, and will not recognize them until they show fruits meet for repentance; and then they will only be placed on probation.

Typographical Union No. 7, of Pittsburg, endorses the stand taken by the News Review, and Typographical Union No. 318 does the same, acting under instructions from the International organization.

Union officials tell us that the so-called pressmen's label now being foisted upon the printers of East Liverpool is not made use of in any city in the United States.

The so-called pressmen's label, forced into this city by one individual, who shall be nameless for the present, never had any right here under any circumstances, and the action of this fellow cost the News Review many hundreds of dollars. The action was an unmitigated outrage—a regular confidence game, in line with other bad work, which will yet be fully exposed.

TWO PEOPLE RUN IN LAST NIGHT

One Man Was Disorderly at His Home and Officer Dawson Took Him

TO THE CITY BASTILE

The Other Man Used the Sidewalk For a Place to Sleep And

WAS FURNISHED WITH A BED

Police business took a brace last evening and as a result two offenders found their way to the city jail.

The first victim was Teddy Hickey, and Officer Dawson collared him. Hickey was disturbing the peace and quietude of his own home.

John Morgan wandered into the city hall for a place to rest his weary bones. He wasn't sober and Chief Thompson told him to depart. He left, but failed to go home, and instead made his bed on the sidewalk in front of city hall. Officer Dawson had no desire to see Morgan freeze, so he assisted him to a cell in the city jail. When he faces Mayor Davidson he will find out how much it costs to spend a night in the East Liverpool jail.

Four photographs of Pat Crowe are the latest addition to the rogues' gallery of Chief Thompson. A reward of $50,000 is offered for his arrest, and if Crowe ever gets in this city he will probably go back to an Omaha jail.

LISBON NEWS.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED IN THE COUNTY COURTS.

There Was Not a Great Deal of It, And It Was Not Important.

Lisbon, Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Elizabeth McGillivray, of Salineville, has filed an action in court in order to reform a deed to lot 467 in Salineville.

Two years ago Thomas Hayes, as administrator of the estate of the late Daniel McGillivray, sold the property to the plaintiff, but the deeds made to her described the wrong property and the heirs have refused to correct the error.

Freeman C. Morrison, of this place, has been adjudged to be insane and will be sent to the Massillon asylum. Morrison is about 50 years of age and his condition is due to the excessive use of intoxicants.

The will in the estate of the late Mary Hamilton, of Wellsville, has been filed for probate and the hearing set for February 2. Thomas T. and Joseph T. Hamilton are named to act as executors.

Irvin S. Rauch, as administrator of the estate of the late Peter Frason, of Columbiana, was authorized to sell lots 50 in Columbiana at private sale. The lots have been appraised at $4,650.

An order of private sale issued for Lisbon property in the case of Patrick Maher, guardian, versus the heirs of Sarah Cleckner.

In the case of Robert F. Dailey against R. F. Dailey et al., the sale of the property was confirmed and a deed ordered made to John J. Purinton, the purchaser.

THE LINE WILL BE BUILT

At Least That Is What the Promoters Say In Regard To It.

ARE YOU READY FOR A RIDE?

Salem News.

Another important meeting of the promoters of the Youngstown and East Liverpool Railway company of this city was held yesterday afternoon at Hanna & Kridler's office.

At this meeting the organization of the company was completed and the books were opened for stock subscriptions. Messrs. Timothy Dwight, of Chicago; T. W. Latimer, of Pittsburgh; H. G. Folts, E. E. Hanna and R. C. Kridler, of this city, were present.

The promoters now say that the railway will surely be put through from East Liverpool to Youngstown, by way of this city, Leetonia and Columbiana within a year, and that the eastern capitalists who are interested are ready to take the stock required for the successful prosecution of the enterprise. Messrs. Folts, Dwight and Latimer will be in New York early next week to consult with the capitalists who are backing them.

The most unfavorable portion of the route to be traversed is that from East Liverpool to Lisbon, which will involve the making of a tunnel at one point. An easy grade has been secured for the route through all the other points mentioned.

Abstract of Statistics for the Preceding Year Given Out.

The past year's statistics regarding the children's home of Ohio, compiled from the annual reports of those institutions, were completed and given out by Secretary J. P. Byers, of the state board of charities Thursday.

No reports were received from Knox, Logan, Meigs, Monroe, Union, Warren and Wayne counties. The report says:

Thirty-two county homes (14 not reporting) report a total number of children cared for since their respective organization of 18,806—10,726 boys and 3,080 girls.

At the beginning of last year 2,144 children were in the homes. During the year 1,366 were admitted, making a total cared for of 2,510. Of these 644 were placed in homes, 735 returned to parents or guardians, 73 transferred to other institutions, 23 ran away, 20 died; and at the close of the year 196 were put on trial. The number remaining September 1, 1900, was 2,031, a decrease in population during the year of 113.

The total current expenses, including salaries, were $220,798 07. The per capita costs vary greatly. In Defiance county it was $58 16, Hocking $62 14, Preble $65, Lawrence $65 67, Harrison $65 81, Trumbull $154 30, Warren $152 18, Licking $138 43 and Belmont $138.

RECENT BAR EXAMINATIONS.

The Legal News has recently given some interesting data concerning examinations for admission to the Ohio bar, held under the new rules of the supreme court.

The June examinations are perhaps the most interesting, as these are taken by the classes from the several law schools of the state, as well as by men from law offices. The average standings of the representatives of the various schools is as follows:

Examinations for June, 1899.

Ohio State University	82.5
Western Reserve University ..	81.08
University of Michigan	78.78
University of Cincinnati	77.12
Columbian of Washington	77.06
Northern Indiana	75.65
Harvard	73.1
Ada	72.93
Y. M. C. A., of Cincinnati (Night School)	72.45

Examination for June, 1900.

Western Reserve University ...	83.11
University of Michigan	83.06
Ohio State University	79.19
Ada	78.89
Y. M. C. A. of Cincinnati	77.44
Baldwin (Night school)	76
Columbian of Washington	74.09
Columbia of New York	73.06
Georgetown, of Washington, D. C.	71.5
Lebanon	71.4

Average standing for both these examinations:

Western Reserve University ..	82.09
University of Michigan	80.92
Ohio State University	80.84
University of Cincinnati	80.4
Y. M. C. A. of Cincinnati	74.94

The foregoing percentages strikingly illustrate the disadvantage under which students from law schools of other states labor in taking the Ohio examinations.

Prior to the adoption of the new rules, and when special examinations were held at the various law schools, the charge was frequently made that favoritism was shown the students from the schools, as large proportions of the law office men taking the examination at Columbus failed, while only a small proportion of the law school men failed. It therefore is especially interesting to compare the law school men with the law office men in these two examinations.

In June, 1899, 84 per cent of all the failures were from the law offices. Fifty-eight per cent of the law office men failed, while only 7 per cent of the law school men failed.

In June, 1900, 71 per cent of all the failures were from the law offices. Seventy per cent of the law office men failed and 15 per cent of the law school men failed. Of the law school men that failed two-thirds came from the night schools and foreign schools, so that from the three leading schools of the state only 5 per cent failed.

In the former of these examinations 43 per cent of the law school men stood above 80, while only six per cent of the law office men stood above that grade. In the latter of these examinations 51 per cent of the law school men stood above 80, and 14 per cent of the law office men stood above that grade. It would therefore seem that the law schools have abundantly proven the groundlessness of the charge formerly made against them.

The foregoing data fully establishes two things; first, that men who have enjoyed the advantages of systematic law school training are much better fitted for the Ohio bar examination than men who have received their training in law offices; and secondly, that men trained in Ohio law schools are much better fitted for these examinations than men trained in law schools of other states.

USEFUL SNOW.

But For It Much of the Earth Would Be Little Better Than a Desert.

If all the condensed moisture of the atmosphere were to fall as rain and none of it as snow, hundreds of thousands of square miles of the earth's surface now yielding bountiful crops would be little better than a desert. The tremendous economic gain for the world at large which results from the difference between snow and rain is seldom realized by the inhabitants of fertile and well watered lowlands.

It is in the extensive regions where irrigation is a prime necessity in agriculture that the special uses of the snow come chiefly into view. All through the winter the snow is falling upon the high mountains and packing itself firmly into the ravines. Thus in nature's great icehouse a supply of moisture is stored up for the following summer.

All through the warm months the hardened snowbanks are melting gradually. In trickling streams they steadily feed the rivers, which as they flow through the valleys are utilized for irrigation. If this moisture fell as rain, it would almost immediately wash down through the rivers, which would hardly be fed at all in the summer, when the crops most needed water.

These facts are so well known as to be commonplace in the Salt Lake valley and in the subarid regions of the west generally. They are not so well understood in New Jersey or Ohio, where snow is sometimes a picturesque, sometimes a disagreeable, feature of winter.

In all parts of the country the notion prevails that the snow is of great value as a fertilizer. Scientists, however, are inclined to attach less importance to its service in soil nutrition—for some regions which have no snow are exceedingly fertile—than to its worth as a blanket during the months of high winds. It prevents the blowing off of the finely pulverized richness of the top soil. This, although little perceived, would often be a very great loss.

In nature's every form there is meaning.—Youth's Companion.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK.

He Scorns All Effort but Military Service and Agriculture.

A Turk thinks it the most natural thing in the world to lose a province and, having lost it, to quit and live elsewhere. He talks quite complacently of leaving Constantinople some day. He will go over to Asia and found another capital. He originates nothing. He takes what he finds without assimilating it and remains profoundly Turkish. He leaves no trace of his occupation except ruins. Practically there is nothing at Belgrade, Sofia and Athens to show that for centuries they were Turkish cities.

All occupations, except agricultural and military service, are distasteful to him. Yet there are two other characteristics even more important than these. The first is his sense of discipline. It is this which keeps together the apparently tottering fabric of the Turkish empire. It makes the half fed, half clothed soldier ready to endure every privation and prevents the corruption and incapacity of the officers from producing the anarchy which would be inevitable in any other country. Sedition is unknown. Even complaints are rare, and were a holy war proclaimed there is not a man who would not be prepared to die in defense of the system of extortion which grinds him down.

His second characteristic is his laziness, in spite of the laborious industry of the Turkish peasant. The fact is that the Turk is too proud to do many things, too stupid to do others. His religion inculcates a fatalism which tends to a conviction that effort is useless.—London Telegraph.

Serious Complaint.

Askit—Whatever became of that patient of yours you were telling me about some time ago?

Dr. Sokum—Oh, he's got a complaint now that's giving me a great deal of trouble.

Askit—Indeed! What is it?

Dr. Sokum—It's about the amount of my bill.—Philadelphia Press.

Bad Form.

Mrs. Highblower—Don't forget, my dear, that in conversation the interest must not be allowed to flag.

Clara—But I'm sure I do my best, mamma.

"Maybe so, but while the pianist was playing I thought once or twice that I detected you listening to him."—Life.

Preached at the Methodist Protestant Revival Service Last Evening.

Another class was received into the Methodist Protestant church last night in the revival meetings, all adults. Rev. Dr. Swift, of Beaver Falls, former pastor, preached a strong sermon, and the after meeting was an uplift.

People have been uniting with the church almost every night as a result of these meetings and Sunday may bring great things for this congregation.

The singing, praying and every feature of the services seem to have a note of victory in it. The service tonight is at 8 o'clock promptly, and all are cordially invited to come and enjoy these meetings.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1901.

POLICE GAZETTE.

Best take that so-called union label down, and replace with a last, awl and ball of wax.

COWARDICE.

And now some of our most prominent lawmakers at Washington City declare that prize fighters are irreproachable gentlemen when compared with the brutal hazers who have been indulging their cowardly instincts at West Point.

CHESTER.

A prominent gentleman connected with the Southside Land company called at the News Review office this morning and stated that there is no intention to attempt to place a saloon in that territory; that the owners of the property are absolutely opposed to the introduction of a saloon or saloons, now or at any future time, as they consider the saloon an enemy to capitol and labor alike.

NOT ENOUGH ELECTRICITY.

Well, the arc light was in play again at the corner of Walnut and Kossuth streets last night, while the glim was doused at Walnut and Forest streets. And now the rumor is that there is not enough electricity to go all around, and that the points designated must share and share alike, one night on and 'tother night off; like the Irishman's nimble flea—now you have it, and now you don't.

WENT AFTER THEM.

The latest reports from Washington City state that General Dick, of Ohio, made it very uncomfortable for some of the hazers who were on the witness stand. General Dick will please every lover of fair play in the nation if he puts in play a couple of solar plexus blows on the said brutal parties every second of the time the fellows are in court. Knock 'em out, friend Dick; and then proceed to effectually knock out hazing for all time to come at West Point.

AT THE STAKE.

Burning at the stake is simply an infamy beyond compare, and a devilish deed when perpetrated upon a human being who is simply suspected of having committed a foul and brutal crime, but against whom not a scintilla of legal evidence has been produced. The Kansas mob is said to have gone wild in the efforts of its members to secure fragments of bone, pieces of charred cuticle, or the finger nails or toe nails of the victim of their mad frenzy. Surely such relic fiends had ceased to be under the control of brain power, reason and common manhood, and had simply become degenerates, unfit to represent humanity or decency.

THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

As a rule we do not believe in dealing out treacle to members of the journalistic circle; but we cannot refrain from commending, in warm terms of praise, the Cleveland Leader for the noble work it is doing against the Rum Devil introduced in the Philippines with the permission of the United States government. And we further commend the Leader for its demand that the government of this republic shall, now and forever, dissolve partnership with the liquor traffic and the accursed saloon. Let the good work go on. The very atmosphere is pregnant with the unquenchable spirit of reform against this damnable and devilish traffic, and public sentiment will, in the very near future, compel leading journals all over the land to adopt the splendid stand voluntarily assumed by the Cleveland Leader. God speed the day when this land of freedom shall wipe out a worse disgrace than that of human slavery.

A SCOUNDREL.

We have it from absolutely reliable authority that there is a man residing in this city who has been interviewing candidates for office and telling them that the News Review is an unfair office, that he is a pressman, that if the said candidates get any cards printed at the News Review office the pressman's union and all other union organizations will unite against them and defeat them. We now brand this fellow as utterly untruthful, and have proof, absolute and undisputable, from the officials of the unions in Pittsburgh, that the label now used by the News Review covers in full all products turned out by the craft known as newspaper and job printers, and that the label now used by so-called pressmen in East Liverpool is unauthorized, illegal, and the outcome of a mere confidence game. If necessary, we will produce the affidavits of the union officials of Pittsburgh City to this effect, and the confidence men in East Liverpool claim that they are working under the sanction of Pittsburgh union.

GAMBLERS.

We have them in our midst, and we can name a few of them, if required to do so, who are endeavoring to carry on business and gambling at the same time. Drop it, my lads. Call the game off at once. Quit one of the two features. Either take up the sporting side as a regular pursuit or drop it altogether and attend strictly to your legitimate occupation or calling. Don't get hot under the collar and assert that the writer is a Smart Alec. Don't swear and fume and foam and tell us to mind our own business. If you are brainy and keen, and have made a study of the lives of older men who have run the gamut of the gamester's life, you will be forced to acknowledge that the matter of gambling and legitimate business will no more amalgamate and coalesce and thrive together than will oil and water mix. There is no more despicable creature on earth than an old gambler. He is a shark and a robber, living at the expense of the suckers he meets with among tradesmen, or old and young business men, robbing them before their very faces through the medium of tricks and sleight of hand, acquired by long years of patient study and practice, until it is next to an impossibility for the novice to detect him in his chicanery, and the old rascal continues to steal and cheat, possibly for years, with the record of a dead square sport, until some keener sport appears on the scene of action, and the old robber is exposed and disgraced, and he goes the way of all his infamous tribe, down to the grave of the sot and the drunkard. Young business man, do you like the picture? It is almost as true as truth.

TOO PREMATURE.

He Secured a Marriage License, But the Girl Wouldn't Have Him.

Buckeye State.

Some people in this world seem to have been born to prematureness. There, for illustration, is the case of Fred Gorward, of Salem. One day last December Freddy was in Lisbon on business, and concluded that he would like to kill two pigeons with one stone, as it were, and he procured a license to marry Miss Ada Bowman, of Salem. True, Miss Ada had not been consulted about the matter, but Fred gave himself no uneasiness on that account. Miss Bowman, however, took a decidedly different view of affairs, and felt so annoyed and embarrassed by the publication of the fact that the license had been issued that she gave Freddy a vigorous jolt on the first opportunity, and informed him that when she was to be married she would at least like to know something about it. Fred is out $1.25 in cash and a whole heartful of unrequited affection just because he was born into the world with a superabundance of previousness.

A Large Estate.

Buckeye State.

The Blackburn heirs, claiming property in England and elsewhere sufficient to cancel the national debt, threaten to hold a mass meeting in East Liverpool in the near future. It is not announced, however, that they will distribute the millions on the occasion.

They Swapped.

A little boy in Bangor, Me., was suffering from a severe cold, and his mother gave him a bottle of cough mixture to take while at school. On his return she asked if he had taken his medicine. "No," he candidly replied. "but Bobby Jones did. He liked it, so I swapped it with him for a handful of peanuts."

Died This Morning.

Mrs. Mary Dye, aged 30 years, died at her home at the corner of Bank and Oak streets after an illness of several weeks with typhoid fever. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but the remains will be taken to Parkersburg for interment.

MASS MEETING HELD IN CHESTER

The Citizens Don't Want License and Enter an Earnest Protest Against The

MOVE OF THE LIQUOR PEOPLE

A Messenger Will Carry the Protest to the West Virginia Legislature.

MR. M'DONALD HAS A WORD

The mass meeting held at the Chester Methodist Episcopal church last night was largely attended and very enthusiastic.

Those who attended were among the best citizens of the community, and were made up of people of all classes without respect to church or party affiliation.

A. M. Mickle was made chairman and S. M. Newell acted as secretary.
A very strong resolution was adopted by the assemblage remonstrating in a vigorous manner against the adoption of the proposed legislation to admit the saloon traffic to the new corporation of Chester. This, together with the petition, will be taken before the senate and legislature at once.

S. F. Rose and J. C. Cunningham were appointed a committee to circulate petitions in Chester today, and are busily engaged at the task. The paper is being largely signed.

J. W. Finley will go to Charleston tomorrow morning armed with the remonstrance, and it is confidently expected that his efforts will be successful.

Attorney J. E. McDonald called at the News Review office this morning and said there certainly was a misunderstanding. He stated that Thompson Allison was taking the census of Chester in order that it might be presented to circuit court before the village was incorporated. He said
C. A. Smith had had his corps of engineers at work for several weeks locating the boundary lines of Chester and getting things in shape, in order that the village might be incorporated as soon as possible. He said no application had been made to the legislature, and that the constitution of West Virginia made it impossible for a town to secure license until it had 2,000 inhabitants. He said they didn't want license and were not asking for it. All they want is to incorporate and get the village on an organized basis, which means better order. He also stated that Hancock county had been a Prohibition county always, and that the license question is in the hands of the county commissioners. He closed his interview by saying:

"It looks as though some person was trying to get some cheap notoriety out of this. We don't want liquor and won't have it for Chester. It is a move simply to incorporate the village, which means more public improvements and better order. License would be a bad thing for Chester, and we know it."

His Uncle Dead.

Word was received in Chester yesterday that Harvey Bole, uncle of Charles Bole, of this place, had died at his home in New Kensington yesterday. Mrs. Bole left today to attend the funeral. She will join her husband in Pittsburgh.

German Law of Libel.

The German law of libel is a curiosity. An editor recently said in his paper that a certain gentleman "was an unmannerly boor," in consequence of which a libel action was brought against the paper. The evidence given seemed to show that the only fault with the expression was that it was not strong enough. The case was taken from court to court in the usual way until it reached the highest tribunal.
The final decision was that the editor would have been perfectly justified if he had said that the plaintiff "had acted like an unmannerly boor," but since he had said that the plaintiff actually "was an unmannerly boor" he had committed libel. In Germany it is libelous to call a man a pig or an ass, but if you combine the two and call a man a pig ass then there is no libel, because such an animal does not exist.
The favorite combination among Germans is, we believe, pig dog—schweine-hund.—Chambers' Journal.

E. ANNIVERSARY.

Twentieth to Be Celebrated at Portland, Me.

MEMORIAL TABLET TO BE UNVEILED

On Williston Church, the Birthplace of the Christian Endeavor Movement. Prominent Clergymen and Laymen in United States and Canada to Attend.

Portland, Me., Jan. 18.—The local committee in charge of the arrangements for the twentieth anniversary celebration of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, to be held here Jan. 31 to Feb. 3, had nearly completed their work.

Assurances were received from many prominent clergymen and laymen in both the United States and Canada that they will be present and take part in the exercises. The principal event of the four days' celebration will be the unveiling of a bronze memorial tablet on Williston church, the birthplace of the Christian Endeavor movement.

SPIRITUAL WELFARE FIRST.

But Earl of Donbigh Said Catholics in Great Britain Were Loyal Citizens.

London, Jan. 18.—The Earl of Donbigh, presiding at the banquet of the Catholic association, instead of the Duke of Norfolk, who is ill with a cold, proposed "The Pope and the Queen." He said:

"We join the two because we regard spiritual welfare as taking precedence of temporal welfare, but we are not the less loyal subjects."

FOREIGN MISSION BOARDS.

Eighth Conference of United States and Canada—Rev. Dr. Scholl Presided.

New York, Jan. 18.—The eighth conference of foreign mission boards in the United States and Canada was continued. Rev. Dr. George Scholl, Evangelical Lutheran, of Baltimore, presided.

The report of a special committee recently appointed by the executive committee to consider the statements made some time ago by a number of Buddhist priests in Japan in an address to the clericals of the world, was received. The address undertook to explain the trouble in China, and incidentally the mistakes of Christian missionaries. The special committee which was appointed to consider the address prepared an answer, which was presented by Rev. Dr. J. L. Barton, corresponding secretary of the American board (Congregational), Boston.

The address said in part:

"It is strange that in your brief and necessarily limited survey of the work of Christian missions in China, you did not secure a complete knowledge of the character of the American missionaries. It is not to be wondered at that you failed to note the marked difference between the methods used by the American Protestant missionaries and those used by some others who are working in China. We do not wish to cast any reflections upon the work of any missionary organization or upon individual missionaries, but when criticisms are made of the nature of some of those contained in the address, it would be far more just to specify the sect of the missionaries charged with those faults and indiscretions."

"It may not be strictly within the scope of a reply to your appeal, yet we cannot help referring to our deep sorrow that in the conflict of arms which has occurred in China many unrighteous things have been done by those who are allied with governments bearing the Christian name. It is not unnatural that the Chinese and others should attach the reproach of those acts to Christianity. We beg you not to make this mistake. The Boxer society is said to have been originally a Buddhist organization, and during the recent troubles some of the leaders were Buddhist priests, but we would not think of holding Buddhism responsible for this."

REV. DR. W. S. FULTON CALLED.

Expected to Accept the Pulpit of the Point Breeze Church, Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 18.—The Rev. Dr. W. S. Fulton, of the Second Presbyterian church, Lexington, Ky., has been unanimously called to the pastorate of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church. This church has a membership of 600 and pays $4,000 per annum. He will succeed the late Rev. Dr. Solon Cobb, and the formal tendering of the call was to be made Thursday. Dr. Fulton, it was asserted, will accept and will take charge about April 1.

The Rev. Dr. Fulton belongs to two of the oldest families in Western Pennsylvania. He was born in Burgettstown, educated at Lafayette and the Western Theological seminary, and ordained by the presbytery of Erie. For the past 17 years he has been located at Lexington. He is a cousin of Dr. W. H. Fulton, of the East End, and his wife is a daughter of the late Judge Gordon, of Brookville.

MAYBE SLANDERED BOOZ.

Codes Admitted Leaflet in Bible May Have Been Religious—MacArthur Belittled Hazing.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Cadet James Prentice, who had accused the late Oscar L. Booz of feigning to read his Bible when he had a novel hidden inside the cover, was examined by the congressional committee. After a long examination by the committee Prentice said he believed that he was mistaken and Booz might have been reading a religious publication.

Preceding the above testimony, at one point, the witness told of being hazed by Cadet Foy during his first year at the academy. He was sick during the day prior to being hazed and after he had done 12 eagles he became faint and told Foy that he had been ill.

Foy let up on him and scolded him for not telling of his illness before.

"This," said Prentice, "made me very careful ever since if I was hazing a man. I never interfered with a delicate-looking cadet. Booz was not a strong looking man and I always had a friendly feeling for him and tried to advise him for the better."

While making this statement Prentice was visibly affected and his voice broke. He seemed to be on the verge of breaking down when, in answer to General Dick, he said:

"If I had known anything about it beforehand I should never have allowed Booz to be called out. I considered that he was not physically fit to take part in a fight."

Congressman Wanger congratulated the witness for the considerate manner in which he had treated Booz in not reporting him at times when he had an opportunity, and particularly when he did not complain of Booz to his class committee on one occasion, when his doing so would have resulted in Booz's being called out.

Cadet Douglas MacArthur followed Prentice on the stand. Regarding hazing he received, he said in part:

"The hazing took place in 'A' company street. It was not my own tent; there were other men there—Farnum, Haskell and Cunningham, my tent mates. There was a solree, and several of my classmates were hazed on that occasion. The solree lasted about an hour. I got about 250 eagles, hung on the stretcher for two minutes at a time, and did some dips. It was a very warm night, and I had been feeling 'under the weather' all day and was rather weak. It was dark when the solree began and I perspired profusely, but by 'taps' I was all right again."

"Did you consider the treatment you received cruel at the time?" asked Mr. Driggs, who read the definitions of the word from a dictionary.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you still regard it as cruel?"

"Yes, sir."

"Now, tell us the names of the men who were hazing you."

"Cadets Dockery and Barry."

Mr. Driggs tried to get MacArthur to admit that he was seriously upset by the violent exercises he was required to go through, but the witness would not. He maintained that he had cramps in his muscles and had lost control of them. He denied that cotton had been stuffed in his mouth.

MacArthur was very positive in his denials. His examination was not finished during the above session.

Man Who Murdered Five Hung.

Regina, N. W. T., Jan. 18.—John Morrison, who murdered a whole family, father, mother and three children, named McArthur, near Moosmin, two months ago, was hanged here. The condemned man was cool and collected. The scaffold was the same one on which Louis Riel, the rebel, was hanged in 1885.

Battle With Horse Thieves.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 18.—Two men charged with horse stealing were arrested at Greenhill after a battle with a posse of citizens, in which Cashier Volt, of a bank at Otterbein, was slightly wounded. One of the prisoners was fatally wounded.

FERRELL IS DOOMED.

State Pardon Board Refused to Commute His Sentence.

INSANE PLEA NOT ACCEPTED.

Opinion Expressed He Was Sane as Any Man When He Commits Murder—Said He Could Have Been Convicted Without His Confession.

Columbus, O., Jan. 18.—The state board of pardons refused to interfere in the case of Rosslyn P. Ferrell, sentenced to be electrocuted on March 1, for killing Express Messenger Lane.

A lengthy report upon Ferrell's case was presented to the board by Mr. Hanselmann, to whom it had been referred. The first three grounds on which commutation of the sentence was asked were treated as one—the youth of Ferrell, his previous good character and his excellent conduct since his arrest. They were given no weight. The fourth ground was treated at some length. It was the claim that Ferrell was convicted on his own confession and that it was drawn from him unfairly. The report said that without the slightest doubt Ferrell could have been convicted without his confession. The report said that the only other ground set forth that is worth considering is the fifth, viz., that Ferrell was temporarily insane when he committed the crime, because of his approaching marriage to Miss Costlow and his financial embarrassments. The report proceeded at some length to show that there was true deliberation about the crime, though it might have resulted remotely from his love affair with Miss Costlow. He lied to her about having money in a building and loan association, and to avoid being convicted of being a liar as well as a bankrupt he deliberately planned to kill his friend Lane and rob his safe of the express money in his charge. The report closed with the statement that Ferrell was undoubtedly as sane when he committed the murder as any man ever is when he commits murder, and there was no good reason shown why the course of the law should be arrested in his case.

MISS ROCKEFELLER A BRIDE

United in Marriage to Mr. E. Parmelee Prentice, of Chicago, at Her Father's Home.

New York, Jan. 18.—Miss Alta Rockefeller, second daughter of John D. Rockefeller, was married to E. Parmelee Prentice, of Chicago. The home of the Rockefellers, No. 4 West Fifty-fourth street, was the scene of the wedding. The wealth of John D. Rockefeller is estimated at $300,000,000.

The honeymoon will last till autumn. There will be a trip to Cleveland first, and then Mr. and Mrs. Prentice will sail for Europe, where Dr. Mueller, the famous Vienna aurist, will resume his course of treatment, which has already almost restored the bride's hearing.

The wedding had been planned for the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, with a large reception at home, but the death of little 3-year-old "Jack" McCormick, John D. Rockefeller's favorite grandson, a fortnight ago, enforced a quieter wedding.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. William H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university. The bridal gown was described as of superb and very heavy ivory white satin, the corsage high at the neck, with long sleeves. It was daintily trimmed with old point lace, too, secured by several tiny jeweled pins and sprays of orange blossoms.

The eight maids who attended the bride were Miss Evelyn M. A. Dallas, Miss Katherine M. Clark, Miss Elizabeth Swift, Miss Grace G. Scott, Miss Marion E. Platt, Miss Baird, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Isham Prentice, of Chicago, the bridegroom's sister.

The four ushers were Munro Johnson, Charles R. Carrugh, Henry H. Porter, Jr., all of Chicago, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., brother of the bride.

The best man was Emerson B. Tuttle, of Chicago.

TROOPS WERE CALLED OUT.

Bloody Affair at Corbin, Ky.—Bad Crowd Were Massing For Trouble About Seven Miles Away.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 18.—Roger D. Williams, colonel of the Second regiment, Kentucky state guard, received orders from the adjutant general to hold troops in readiness for a call to Corbin, in the event of further rioting. One company and Battery A were assembled at the armory, and later Colonel Williams received orders to take Company M, infantry, and Battery A, artillery, to Corbin, over the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. Sixty-five men left under orders. The orders were issued by Governor Beckham.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 18.—As a result of a riot here two persons were killed, one was mortally wounded, three or four others were slightly wounded and a building was wrecked by dynamite.

The dead are Miss Susan Cox, an innocent bystander, killed by a stray bullet; Sutton Farris, killed by the explosion.

The wounded are James Shotwell, fatal; Hadley Bradley, Tracy Cooper, an unknown traveling man.

James Shotwell was shot and mortally wounded by Rolla White, who had become angered with Shotwell on being refused the privilege of keeping company with Shotwell's daughter. White at once went to the store of his brother, where he surrendered to a deputy sheriff.

An explosion demolished the store in which White had taken refuge with his friends. A general fusillade followed, in which hundreds of shots were fired. The body of Miss Susan Cox was found near the place, but the Whites were unhurt.

Sheriff Sutton and his posse arrived and at once searched the White residence. They unearthed the body of Sutton Farris, a painter, in the debris. The White boys were found locked up in a rear room. They were placed under arrest.

James Shotwell died, making the third victim of the battle.

Rolla White has been placed in jail at Williamsburg.

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 18.—Tom Shotwell, who, it was believed, helped to dynamite the store at Corbin, was here. He said the Shotwells were massing at Grays, about seven miles from Corbin. He left for Grays. The Shotwells are desperate people. They were mixed up in the Goebel tragedy. The Whites lived here a few years ago. Raleigh White, who shot Shotwell, was a soldier in the Philippines, and was promoted on the battlefield for gallantry. The Whites came originally from Virginia.

Williamsburg, Ky., Jan. 18.—It has been learned that the Knoxville train, on which the sheriff and posse started from Corbin, as it slowed up at Woodbine, was riddled with bullets, fired by some of the Shotwell boys, who were riding on the bumpers, waiting for White to get on or off.

KITCHENER IS ACCUSED.

Charged With Issuing Secret Orders to De Wet's Pursuers to Take No Prisoners.

London, Jan. 18.—The "stop the war" committee passed the following resolution:

"Orders which a British officer reports he personally received reveal the adoption by Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener of a policy having for its aim the extermination of its heretic nationality by starving its women and children and the deliberate massacre of unarmed prisoners."

The latter clause alludes to General Kitchener's alleged secret orders to General De Wet's pursuers to take no prisoners.

Copies of letters from an unnamed British army officer containing these and other charges, it was said, will be sent by the committee to Lord Salisbury, Lord Roberts and others.

ATTEMPTED BLACKMAIL.

The Charge Made Against a Young Man at Ashtabula, O.

Ashtabula, O., Jan. 18.—Robert Johnson, Jr., a young colored man, whose home is at Jefferson, this county, is under arrest here, charged with blackmail. A short time since N. E. French, president of the First National bank at Jefferson received a letter in which he and his daughter were threatened with death if he failed to leave $500 on the steps of the county fair building before 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A decoy package was placed on the steps and officers concealed themselves in the building. Finally Johnson made his appearance and was arrested. The officers believe others are implicated.

Wm. Steyn Accused of High Treason.

Standerton, Jan. 18.—Boer women, brought in by the military, reported that William Steyn, who was appointed a delegate of the Boers here to ask the fighting Boers to surrender under Lord Kitchener's proclamation, was made a prisoner and sent to Pretoria, accused of high treason.

The Boers were still active around Standerton.

THE NEWS REVIEW.

A REBUFF TO DEFENSE.

Judge Refused to Allow Jury to Be Misled.

GIVING CHLORAL PART OF ASSAULT

Shaw, For State, In Jennie Bosschietter Trial, Denounced Accused as Taking Girl Out to Do Her to Death Like a Dog.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 18.—Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Shaw began the summing up for the state in the Jennie Bosschietter murder trial. It was expected Prosecutor Emley merely offered in evidence the undergarment said to have been a part of Jennie Bosschietter's wardrobe.

Mr. Shaw, in his summing up, claimed that the state had proven its case and that its every contention had been sustained. He denounced the accused, who, he said, had taken the girl out to do her to death like a dog. He demanded that the jury render such a verdict as the law and evidence demanded one of guilty in the highest degree.

Then ex-Judge Francis Scott led in the summing up for the defense. He was followed by Michael Dunn. Their addresses were very similar. They declared that no case had been made out against Walter McAllister, William Death and Andrew Campbell. They ridiculed the expert testimony and branded the hackman, Sculthorpe, as a man of the lowest type and of the basest motives. They maintained that the story told by him was not supported by evidence and that it was a lie. Mr. Scott made a point that if Sculthorpe's story were to be believed at all he should be a prisoner accused of participation in the crime. Mr. Scott was arguing that the state had failed to prove its first count, that of assault, when Judge Dixon interrupted him, saying: "Before you proceed I want the jury to understand that if chloral were given or if a person were struck or choked in order to accomplish the assault, the poison or violence is a part of the assault. The jury must not be misled on that point."

The counsel for the defense declared that it had not been proven that chloral was administered to the girl and maintained that if the statements made by Prof. Witthaus as to the finding of chloral in the stomach of the girl were to be taken into consideration, so were those of Dr. Vandenberg to be given weight.

Dr. Vandenberg had asserted in his testimony that a person could be "knocked out" by drinking absinthe, combined with some other drinks, which would form crystals. The defense maintained that it had not been proven that any of the defendants had purchased chloral or that the bottle alleged to have been found near the dead girl belonged to one of the prisoners. They declared that none of the medical testimony offered had shown that the girl had been assaulted.

Ex-Judge William T. Hoffman, who conducted for the defense all the examinations and cross-examinations, was to conclude the summing up, but he asked that he be allowed to begin his address this morning instead of last evening, to preclude the necessity of repetition should he be interrupted by the adjournment of court.

This request was granted and the court was adjourned until this morning, being the time expected for reconvening.

MARVIN KUHN CAPTURED.

Desperado and Brother Taken After a Desperate Fight.

Cleveland, Jan. 18.—A special to The Plain Dealer from Logansport, Ind., under date of Jan. 17, said in part:

"Marvin Kuhns, the desperado who has terrorized Northern Indiana for weeks and boldly defied the officers of two states, by a singular fatality, finds himself in the Cass county jail, in the very town in which he made such a desperate battle for life and liberty on the afternoon of Dec. 10. Kuhns and his brother, who was released from the Columbus prison shortly after Marvin escaped, were taken after a desperate fight last night at Green Hill, a little town five miles south of Otterbein, west of Lafayette. Before the outlaw was overpowered he shot two men and was himself shot in the head."

Emboldened by immunity from officers, Kuhn says his brother and a confederate stole a team at Plymouth Sunday night and started south. Ex-Sheriff J. E. Marshall and Marshal T. J. Chaney traced them to Lafayette and by telephoning neighboring towns located the men at Green Hill a small village near Otterbein. An Otterbein posse surrounded the house and rushed in at midnight. Marvin was awake and seized a revolver at his bedside. Before he could fire Elmer Switzer shot him in the face and the posse closed in. One man jumped from the second-story window and escaped, but the brothers were overpowered after a struggle, in which shots were exchanged. Wounded as he was, Marvin partially shook off the attacking party and shot R. Volt in the back and Lewis Hawkins in the arm. Neither was fatally injured. The prisoners were brought to Logansport. Here Marvin was positively identified by the policeman who battled with him in December. His measurements and physical marks tally to a dot with the Bertillon description from the Columbus officials. He says if he had been given a fair show he would have cleaned out the posse. The wound in his face is not serious. The Plymouth authorities will likely prosecute him instead of returning him to Columbus.

HUGE COMBINE PROPOSED.

New York Paper Asserts That American Tin Plate, Steel and Wire, Steel Hoop and Others Under Way.

New York, Jan. 18.—The Journal and Advertiser was expected to print the following today:

The first steps in the formation of a $200,000,000 combination of four existing steel and wire companies were taken yesterday afternoon at a secret meeting in the offices of the Federal Steel company, which was attended by the chief representatives of the American Tin Plate company, the American Steel and Wire company, the American Steel Hoop company and the National Steel company. Another meeting will be held tomorrow (Friday). The present capitalization of the four companies named is about $150,000,000. The meeting was surrounded with deepest mystery by those who participated and none would discuss it afterward. President C. M. Schwab, of the Carnegie Steel company, at the Holland house, refused to say anything about the combination, and others equally interested were equally reticent.

AN OVATION TO QUAY.

Received Congratulations From Friends on Senate Floor—Number of Pennsylvanians Cheered In Gallery.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A number of friends of M. S. Quay from Pennsylvania came to Washington to witness his induction into office, and they brought with them a number of floral offerings. While Mr. Quay's desk and the desks of some other senators adjoining him were banked with costly and beautiful floral pieces, not all the flowers his friends had provided were displayed in the senate chamber.

The demonstration accorded to Mr. Quay when he entered the chamber amounted to an ovation. While he was receiving the congratulations of friends on the floor, hundreds of persons who thronged the galleries rose and applauded him. Mr. Quay glanced smilingly around the galleries, nodding familiarly to friends whom he recognized here and there.

The brief ceremony of administering the oath to him of office passed without special event, the president pro tempore having warned those in the galleries that it was against the rules of the senate for spectators to express either approval or disapproval.

During the session the army reorganization bill was discussed at length by Mr. Money, Democrat, of Mississippi; Mr. McComas, Republican, of Maryland, and Mr. Bate, Democrat, of Tennessee. The Mississippi senator devoted some attention to the practice of hazing at West Point, which he bitterly denounced.

SESSION OF THE HOUSE.

Bill to Raise and Codify Postal Laws Was Under Consideration.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The bill to revise and codify the postal laws, which is to be the legislative order—not, however, to interfere with appropriation bills or conference reports—until disposed of, was up in the house. It is a bill of about 221 pages, and is simply a revision of existing laws. Some disposition was manifested to inject into the measure some amendments to the present law in the interest of certain classes of mail employees, but such attempts were successfully resisted. Before the house adjourned, when no quorum was present, Mr. William Alden Smith, of Michigan, offered an amendment to increase the pay of letter carriers of the first, second, third and fourth classes respectively to $1,200, $1,000, $800 and $600. The amendment was defeated on a rising vote, 19 to 33, but Mr. Smith made a point of no quorum, and final action on the amendment went over. About 92 pages of the bill were completed.

APPARENTLY NERVOUS.

Indications That Speculators Were, From Some Movements In the Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 18.—The state of mind of speculators in stocks was one of extreme nervousness Thursday. The cloud of distrust was somewhat dispersed during the course of the day, and prices were laboriously lifted to a level above Wednesday night, but uneasiness recurred in the late dealings and the market closed with urgent selling in force and with violent and disorderly breaks in a number of important stocks.

The opening weakness was most marked in the steel group and the conditions among the great corporations continued to excite grave uneasiness during the entire session. The conviction was taking form in speculative circles that a war between the steel companies was dangerously imminent, which, if it came, may demoralize earnings in the trade. The tacit admission by inside authorities of a coming bond issue by Federal Steel was accepted as foreshadowing a coming struggle. That stock had a further decline of 3 1/2 and Federal Steel preferred of 2 points, on account of this fear, and declines in other members of the group ranged from 1 to 3 points. Meantime manipulative support was effective in other parts of the list, and Sugar, Peoples Gas, St. Paul, Manhattan and a number of the Pacific and Southwesterns were lifted from 1 to 2 points. Then support was accorded to the steel stocks, and the principal members of the group, including Federal Steel, Tin Plate, Steel and Wire and Smelting were lifted sharply above Wednesday night's level. Meantime there was realizing in the railroad list, and prices generally fell away there, with occasional exceptions, which were held up as a support to the market. In the final slump the whole list fell again, with very few exceptions, below Wednesday night's level.

There were such violent breaks as 4 1/2 in Baltimore and Ohio, 4 1/2 in Manhattan, 3 1/2 in Brooklyn Transit and Great Northern preferred, 3 1/2 in Sugar and 2 1/2 in St. Paul and New York Central. Many of the railroad stocks were at the lowest when the market closed. The statement of President Hill, of the Great Northern, that he had never owned a share of St. Paul stock in his life had a greatly unsettling influence on speculators who had worked the conviction that St. Paul had passed to the control of Great Northern and Northern Pacific. The declaration of a 2 per cent dividend on New York, Chicago and St. Louis second preferred, where all the way from 2 1/2 to 5 per cent had been confidently predicted, caused a readjustment of ideas as to a large number of analogous cases. The denial of the rumor that Metropolitan Street Railway had leased Manhattan upset another line of speculative calculations. The money supply continues superabundant, but the growing belief that a notable outward movement of gold had begun served as an additional drag on the market.

The bond market was rather quiet and irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,925,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on last call.

New Switch Will Be Put In at Foot of Driven-From-Home Hill.

NEW CARS HAVE BEEN SHIPPED

It now takes two hours and twelve minutes to make a round trip of the East Liverpool street railway line, but in a short time it will only take two hours.

The company intend to do away with the switches now located at Lyth's and the watering trough and to put in a new switch at the foot of Driven from Home hill. By this means 12 minutes will be saved, and it will do away with the waits at the Walker and Lyth switches. The move has been contemplated by the company for a long time.

The new cars ordered by the company have been shipped and will be here next week.

INFIRMARY DIRECTOR.

Mr. John J. Cadwalader is an Aspirant for the Berth of Director.

Mr. John J. Cadwalader, of East Fairfield township, is a candidate for the position of infirmary director of Columbiana county. He is well and favorably known all over this section, and the universal verdict is that he would make a first-class official and look carefully to the best interests of those who would be placed under his care in case of his election, while the best interests of the county at large, in connection with the management of the infirmary, would be fully subserved.

We understand that it was thought Mr. Cadwalader would have no opposition for the berth at the coming spring Republican primaries; but it now seems that there will be "another Richard in the field." Mr. Cadwalader has already made two runs and canvasses for the berth to which he aspires, and a feeling of fair play is in the political atmosphere, declaring that he is entitled to the position; first, on account of his eminent fitness; and, secondly, on account of his sand and pluck in facing all difficulties which loom up in his political horizon. Success attend him in his effort, and may the third time prove a charm in his favor.

MAYOR DAVIDSON

SENDS ANNUAL REPORT TO AUDITOR ADAMS.

Since Last April He Has Had Just 61 State Cases Before Him.

Mayor Davidson today completed his annual report to be submitted to County Auditor Adams.

The report deals with the cases before the mayor that come under the state law, and the law also requires that he make such report to the county auditor.

Since April 9 of last year Mayor Davidson has had 61 states cases before him. This is a very good showing.

Some of the offenders were fined by him, but a review of the records will show that a number of the offenders went to Lisbon to receive sentences and some of them are now serving terms in the penitentiary.

During the year the mayor has sent a number of cases to the grand jury, and in every instance a conviction has been secured, as the mayor has been careful not to send trivial cases to the court and increase the expenses of the county.

TAKEN ILL.

Miss Moore, a Teacher at Central Building, Taken Suddenly Ill Yesterday Afternoon.

Miss Moore, a teacher at the Fourth street school, was taken seriously ill yesterday while at school. A physician was called and after working with her for almost two hours she was able to be taken to her room in a carriage at 5 o'clock. She is some better today.

Miss Moore was taken ill last week with the grip, but had so far recovered as to be able to return to school.

Her very many friends in the city hope for her speedy and complete recovery.

AN INCIDENT NOT ON THE BILLS

A Lady Boarder Who Owed $3 Started to Move Her Trunk But

THE LANDLADY OBJECTED

And Sat on the Trunk After It Had Been Moved to the Street.

SHE IS NOW IN POSSESSION

An incident occurred on a corner of Sixth street last evening which contained a few features that were not down on the bills.

Kate Grafton had been rooming with the family of Mrs. Pat Costello, and recently there had been some objection on the part of the inmates of the house, concerning her actions. Last night Miss Grafton's landlady informed her that she would have to leave, and as the young woman owed $3 for the rent of the room, she was considerably wrought up as to the safety of her worldly goods.

left the place and the Grafton girl entered the house, accompanied by a boy, and secured possession of her trunk. They carried it to a point on Sixth street, opposite the residence of Charles Harker and stopped to take a rest. The woman had secured a room at the Garner home, Monroe street, and was making her way to that place when Mrs. Costello appeared on the scene. She sat down upon the trunk, declaring she would retain possession of it until the $3 owed was paid.

Miss Grafton and the boy abandoned the trunk and went their different ways, so that Mrs. Costello was left in supreme control.

PRESIDENT HUGHES' TALKED ON ORGANIZED LABOR.

Members of Dippers' Union Turned Out in Force and Encouraged the Brotherhood Leader.

Trenton True American.

The big undertaking of the Potters' Brotherhood officials to reconstruct the organization in the east began Tuesday night.

President A. S. Hughes, accompanied by several local members prominent in the organization, attended a meeting of the dippers Tuesday night.

In response to the notices sent out there was an extra large attendance.

Members who have not been present at meetings for some months were there.

The plans for reorganization were presented and those present seemed much impressed with them.

Mr. Hughes, during the meeting, gave a short talk on the benefits of organized labor.

CHARLES PINKERTON

PAWNED HIS PHONOGRAPH AND 22 RECORDS.

When He Came to Redeem the Pawnbroker Said He Had Sold the Goods.

Charles Pinkerton was the owner of a phonograph, with 22 records. He states that he came to a pawnbroker's in this city and secured $5.00 on his musical apparatus, leaving the instrument as security, he to pay $6.50 when he redeemed the same. He claimed that he was on deck six days before the specified time had elapsed, when the pawnbroker informed him that he had already disposed of the property and that it is now in Youngstown, Ohio. Mr. Pinkerton came to Magistrate McLane, and the justice advised him to secure the services of an attorney, which he did, with the result that an affidavit was filed and an attachment was placed in the hands of Constable Miller, who proceeded forthwith to the pawnbroker's office and levied on what looks like a second hand jewelry establishment, embracing gold and silver watches, chains, rings, etc., which are now snugly stowed away in a safe in the city, awaiting the appearance on the scene of action of the pawnbroker defendant, who is a non-resident of Columbiana county. The goods are appraised in the sum of $64.00. The goods levied on were not found at the pawnbroker's shop, which has been closed and goods taken away, but were found in the care of the proprietor of a pool room doing business on Sixth street. We await developments.

AT FIRST M. E.

AN INSPIRING SERVICE HELD LAST EVENING.

Evangelist Joseph Smith Will Arrive in the City Tomorrow Afternoon.

A very large audience was present at the revival services held at the First M. E. church last night. The pastor, Dr. Crawford, made a short talk, which was followed by an inspiring testimony and altar service. One person sought salvation.

The meetings are growing in interest every evening and the attendance is becoming larger. Up to the present time 30 persons have sought salvation.

A card received from Evangelist Smith says that he will arrive in the city tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and will preach tomorrow night.

The indications are that the meetings will continue to grow in interest and many unsaved souls will seek salvation.

J. M. KELLY SUES FOR $18,000.00

Which He Says Is Due on a Promissory Note Given By The

EAST LIVERPOOL BRIDGE CO.

Lisbon, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—J. M. Kelly filed an action in court this morning demanding judgment in the sum of $18,000 against the East Liverpool Bridge company, W. L. Smith and E. D. Marshall.

On January 11, 1896, the bridge company, by J. E. McDonald, president, gave a note for $18,000 to Smith and Marshall, payable in five years. Last December the note was indorsed by the plaintiff, who presented it on the day it matured at the First National bank in East Liverpool and payment was refused. When it was protested for non-payment, a protestee of $1.90 is added to the amount. An attachment was issued against the lot on the Ohio side of the river on which the abutments to the bridge are erected.

E. A. King, secretary of the board of elections of the house of representatives, of which Congressman R. W. Taylor is chairman, was in the city last evening, returning from Lisbon to Washington and was the guest of Postmaster Shaffer.

The Revival Extending.

Nothing was more evident last night than that the revival meetings in the M. P. church are rapidly increasing every way—in the numbers attending, interest manifested, displays of power and accessions to the church. Quite a class was received into the church last night, and as has been the case ever since the meeting began, the majority of those who joined were adults, married persons. These new additions are adding materially to the solid strength of this already strong church; but best of all is that great joy and peace is being added to many hearts and homes. By Sunday next, it is predicted, these meetings will be powerful, if they continue through the week as they are going now.

Services tonight at 8 o'clock.

(Copyright 1901, by Christian Herald.)

By Edwin Markham.

The following questions were sent to Edwin Markham, at his home in Brooklyn, who wrote the answers specially for the Christian Herald. The lines quoted in two or three of the questions are from Mr. Markham's collected poems, published by Doubleday, Page & Co., entitled "The Man With the Hoe and Other poems."

1. On what questions should all branches of labor unite for the good of the country?

On the reduction of hours of labor per day; on compulsory arbitration; on the study, from humane motives, of the co-operative ideal in industry.

2. In what way, or toward what end, should labor utilize its gigantic strength?

They should resolutely will to come into harmony and unity of aim and aspiration; they should make appeal through the ballot box for an enlargement of the rights of man. They should strive to so organize the world as to keep open the gates of opportunity.

3. What opportunities should the new century bring to the workingman?

Security in his work, and sufficient leisure from his work to give him time to cultivate his moral and aesthetic nature.

4. What effect, in your opinion, will great combinations of wealth have upon the workingman of the future?—will concentration of wealth, trusts, etc., prove a benefit or a drawback to the workingman's progress?

Great combinations of wealth will tend to make greater counter combinations among the working classes. Trusts will be a decided drawback to the workingman's progress unless some means shall be found to make them serve the good of the whole people, as now they serve the good of a very few.

5. To what degree should the workingman be made a partner of wealth?

If I understand your question, he should be made a full partner. In other words, he should receive as nearly as possible the full value of the things he makes or does.

6. In one of your poems, "The Man Under the Stone," you compare a workingman to a man going through life pushing a great stone always up hill. What is the workingman's real burden—what is the real stone in his up-hill life?

That great stone is his unequal struggle for bread today, still further weighted with the fear of penury tomorrow and the dread of a destitute old age. All this, of course, springs out of the narrow margin of scant wage and precarious employment.

7. What kind of help, aside from higher wages, does the laboring man need?

He needs the contented mind that comes from security in his work and joy in his work. This necessarily carries the idea that he must have more leisure and more culture.

8. What would most help to lighten the toiler's burden?

Cooperation, in place of competition, in the industrial world. Cooperation is the logic of Christianity.

9. How can the government best help the workingman?

As a first step, by assuming control of railroads, telegraphs, etc., and so moving wisely onward toward government ownership of all industries which in private hands have become a menace to the public good and the public safety.

10. What should be done with the idle millions? with the great army of men who want work and yet can find nothing to do?

As first steps, they might well be employed by cities and states, at living wages, upon public works. If enough work of that kind is not forthcoming, let the public powers establish ship yards and other industries sufficient in number to employ the willing hands. Of course, if we have a more effective organization of industry, working time for the now idle could be found by cutting down the excessive hours at present forced upon the overworked. Keep cutting down the hours of the day's work until every one has work.

11. Are strikes, which are really battles between workman and employer, helpful or harmful to the toiler?

As a rule, they are harmful to the toiler. But at times they seem to be cruel necessities.

12. Would the toiler benefit if, instead of striking, he submitted his grievances to the general government or to a labor department, regulated by law and having a minister of labor in the president's cabinet? Would not this be a better way for the workingman, for the settlement of differences between employer and employed?

Yes, labor should be represented in the cabinet by an intelligent laborer; not by a parlor farmer, nor by a retired capitalist. The method you suggest of settling strikes would be a decided improvement upon the present haphazard plan.

13. "Their blind feet drift in the darkness, and no one is leading." What kind of leaders do the toilers need?

They need leaders with the white purity of a St. Francis and the iron resolution of a Cromwell, leaders whose watchword shall be "God and the People!" Such men were Joseph Mazzini and John Ruskin.

14. How can the church best help the "brother to the ox?" How reach him, lift him up?

By studying the anxious problems of economics and finding a way of applying the Golden Rule to industry.

15. And working women? Have we a "sister to the ox?" How should she be reached, uplifted—her burden lightened?

Yes, we have a "sister to the ox." Men and women rise and fall together. In general, the same means that will lift and lighten man's burdens will alleviate woman's also.

16. Do churches and church workers neglect the working people? Do they pay enough attention to factory centers and great industrial towns?

No, churches do not give enough attention to these matters. Indeed, the burning question in each church today should be the social problem. The saving of men's souls is very closely connected with the amelioration of their social and industrial conditions. The church needs a new baptism of the Holy Spirit, which is the same as saying, Social Spirit.

By Commander Booth-Tucker.
The very expression, "Idle Millions," sends a shudder through the heart of any thinking man. Is it possible that with all the marvelous advances made by science in every realm of thought and enterprise, we have not yet solved the initial problem of so-called culture—the employment of the unemployed in a humane and remunerative manner? The fact is there, staring us in the face—idle millions standing in the world's market places, where the throb of trade and hum of commerce constitute one ceaseless whirl of activity and continuous progress.

See how door after door of opportunity has closed against the idle millions, through no fault of their own. The avenues of remunerative work are choked with a busy swarm of toilers, who, like a herd of stampeded cattle, gore and trample each other to death in the wild rush for the waters—not of wealth, but of existence, even of very life itself.

There is a remedy, so simply, so natural, so feasible, that the amazing point is that society has taken so long about its consideration and adoption. Let these idle millions be planted upon the vast tracts of idle land by means of the enormous aggregation of idle capital, which can in these days be so easily commanded for any given purpose on which a nation may set its heart, and the problem has been solved. The fallacies that they will not go that they will not stay, that they will not work, that they will not pay, have been exploded by the land colonies which we have already established in this country. We have unquestionably demonstrated that under proper management and suitable conditions, there is no more attractive and feasible form of philanthropy, and none that will more surely repay the capital as well as toil expended on it. Those who have visited the Salvation Army colonies have been unanimous in their testimony as to the practicability of the plan of placing "the landless man on the manless land," as it has been epigrammatically expressed by one of our great writers.

If we stretch out to the idle millions the warm, loving hands, not of charity, but of remunerative employment, in the establishment of homes of which they shall be the happy owners, we shall provide a market for our commerce, new avenues of industry for our city population, an ornament to our nation and an object lesson to the world, by converting our idle millions into our best and most trusted citizens.

Arbitration Remains Labor's Hope.
By W. Stainsby, Chief of the Bureau of Labor of New Jersey.

You ask for my views on the reforms which the new century should bring into the world of labor, especially as to the establishment of labor courts, the abolition of strikes and the addition to the president's cabinet of a secretary of labor. The general discontent now prevailing throughout the world among those who may well be designated the working classes, would seem to indicate the necessity of such reforms in the relations of employer and employe as will make each better acquainted with the aspirations, responsibilities and difficulties of the other.

I believe in arbitration as a means of settling labor disputes after the principals have failed to adjust their difficulties for themselves. Indeed, it is only in that way that any just settlement may be effected. When a dispute becomes so intense as to verge on a strike the principals are of all persons the least competent to get at the merits of it, and determine which side is right; it is only an impartial third party who can do that. The public interests require that all such disputes should be arbitrated, and the side refusing to submit its case for settlement in that way ought to receive the severest censure that public opinion can inflict.

Many of our states have enacted laws establishing boards of arbitration in the interest of the public, but the results of their works seem much below what was expected from them. The failure is generally attributed to the fact that their power is simply advisory; offers of mediation by them are frequently rejected by one or both of the parties to a labor dispute. To give these boards authority to intervene, regardless of what the principals might desire, with the same authority to enforce decisions which the only way of making their work effective. As a theory, such a course would seem to be free from any serious objection; it would only be necessary to find out the right of the matter in dispute, which might be wholly on one side, or partly on both, and decide accordingly; but if the findings should not be acquiesced in by the party at fault, then how would the public regard the measures which

THE 25 ct. FAMILY DOCTOR.

CEDAR SPRINGS, MICH.

Mrs. Isaac Dunham, a well-known lady of that place, writes: "I cannot praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills too much. They did for me what doctors and other medicines could not do. I was troubled with severe disorders of the kidneys and enlargement of the liver. My family doctor treated me the whole of last winter, but did not help me very much, so I gave him up and began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The result was simply wonderful. I am now strong and healthy again, thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

EATON RAPIDS, MICH.

Mrs. Rose Chaffee, a business woman of Eaton Rapids, writes: "For a long time my system was in a terribly weakened state. Biliousness, severe indigestion and kidney troubles made me so miserable that I was hardly able to work. A friend told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I found them just as represented. They restored my health to me, and I think they are a wonderful medicine."

The marked success of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills with Backache, Kidney Trouble, Constipation, Headache and Stomach Weakness make them a family requisite. 25 cts. a box.

must necessarily be taken to enforce them. Assuming the cause of trouble to be the discharge of some workmen by an employer, and that the court, finding the reasons given for dismissal not satisfactory, should order them restored to their places. The employer has no choice between taking back men he does not want in his employ and whom he has already discharged, or incurring the penalty of contempt of the court, which could be no other than fine, and if persisted in, imprisonment.

There are at the present time many instances of labor disputes having been satisfactorily settled by volunteer arbitrators, in whose hands both sides were willing to leave their cause. The intelligence, good judgment, and high personal character of these men being regarded as sufficient guarantee that the conclusions reached by them, no matter which side was favored, would be just and equitable.

"God is invisible, and the czar is far off" is a proverb among the Russian peasantry, eloquently expressive of wrongs inflicted by irresponsible underlings; the pathetic note running through it finds an echo in the heart of many an American workman, from whom the president or other supreme officer of the corporation that employs him, is as "far off" as is the Russian autocrat from the peasant.

To remedy these things, I believe that every corporation should have sitting at its council board, on perfectly equal terms with the other directors, a representative man who would particularly represent the interests of labor, and see to it that in shaping its policy due consideration be given to them.

This representation should be based on stock which the corporation might place within reach of their workmen, on terms adjusted to their means, and which they should be encouraged to buy. He would then have a means of making his wants known and adjusting his grievances without resorting to strikes, and this, I believe, would be of infinitely greater advantage to him and to the public, than the appointment by the president of a secretary of labor in the cabinet of the chief executive of the nation.

THE LATHERS AND THE PLASTERERS

MANAGED TO WIN OUT

A Large Number of Delegates Were Obligated and Took Their Seats.

AN INTERESTING MEETING

Trades Council met in regular session last evening with an unusually large attendance. Chairman McLane presided, and owing to the illness of Secretary Brownfield, C. J. McHugh, of Typographical union No. 318, was selected to perform the duties of the office.

Last night's meeting will go down in history as one of the most interesting since the body was formed. It was notable for the large number of new delegates seated, and also for the strong controversy between the delegates from the rival lathers and plasterers, each of which had a full delegation present.

As stated exclusively in the News Review of Monday the lathers have been contemplating for some time the advisability of taking their grievance before the central labor body, but were very careful to exhaust all means to gain recognition without taking the matter into Trades Council. This they did, and the fact that they have been regular in their attendance at the meetings of the latter organization had already created a favorable impression in their favor, so when the matter came up at last evening's session they had the battle half won in the start.

Their statement was much the same as that given to the public by this paper last Monday, and consisted of a demand that they be recognized by contractors as a separate trade, and that their cards be honored by all building trades.

At the meeting last night the delegates from the plasterers' organization declared they would never consent to the recognition, and a very warm discussion ensued, in which the lathers had much the best of the argument.

It was apparent to a majority of those present that nothing could be gained to listening to the various claims on the floor, especially since the argument had become so animated that pleasantries were being indulged in, and on motion the matter was placed in the hands of a grievance committee, who will ask a statement from each of the international officials. The decision of the committee will be based to a great extent upon the statements of these organizations.

However, it is extremely difficult for the average man, knowing anything of unionism, to figure out how the lathers can be denied recognition, since they are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which makes them a bona fide organization in every sense of the word.

The report of the trustees, who have had the books of the various officers in hand for the some time, was received and showed that everything was in good shape, and that the organization was advancing in a very satisfactory manner, both financially and along other lines.

The remainder of the evening was given over to the entertainment, which has been promised the members and their friends for some time.

The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, Miss Ruby Oppell reading very entertainingly, and the selection rendered by the Acme quartet, composed of juvenile vocalists, was thoroughly enjoyed. LeRoy Orr, in comic recitations, pleased the audience so well that he was compelled to answer a number of encores. The C. C. quartet rendered fine music. In fact, the large crowd was thoroughly entertained and an hour had slipped away before they were really aware of it.

The affair was so successful that another effort will be made along the same line in the near future.

The following delegates were seated:

Local union No. 29, dishmakers—John McGuire, William Rumberger, Robert White.

ANOTHER LETTER.

Miss Swaney Gives a Portion of State Board of Agriculture Program.

Columbus, Jan. 15, 1901.

Editor News Review.

The program of the annual meeting of the state board of agriculture, to be held in the state senate chamber January 15 to 17, includes addresses by Prof. W. R. Layenby on the "Structure and Varieties of the Apple," and by Prof. Hunt on "The Outlook for the Live Stock Industry in Ohio."

John F. Hickman, formerly of East Liverpool, will be present and will probably make an address. It will be remembered that Mr. Hickman was director of the state experimental farm when it was connected with the university.

There will be no high school day at the State University this year. The interruption of the college work was so inconvenient that at a meeting of the general faculty held Wednesday evening, the report of the special committee on high school day, recommending that it be dropped as no longer necessary, was adopted. It was decided, however, to notify the high schools that any time their students desired to visit the university they would be welcomed.

The dairy school opened this term with an increased number of students. The excellence of this school over that of any similar one for the study of this work is becoming evident. The cheese made here won a medal at the Business at Police Court is Still at a Standstill.

Ed Joyce, who was arrested for being drunk, was turned loose by Mayor Davidson last evening. Joyce is an old man, and is more to be pitied than censured.

There were no arrests last night, and business at police court is still very slow.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not, but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901.

A PESKY RODENT.

A nasty rat while at Akron. A loud-mouthed advocate of unionism when in East Liverpool.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

We have reference to the arc light supposed to illuminate the corners of Kossuth and Walnut streets. It has failed to effulge on several nights of late.

COWARDICE.

The charge of cowardice could be conclusively proven, in any court of plain justice in the land, against the West Pointers who put up a trained pugilist against a mere novice in the use of his fists.

WHO PAYS FOR THEM.

A local union office in this city, forced into the union, refused to publish the label of Typographical union No. 318, some time since, unless the local union paid for the same at so much an inch. It did not receive the advertisement.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

As usual, the local Police Gazette rushes into the arena and advocates the cause of sin, iniquity and Sabbath desecration. One good feature is the fact that those who are best acquainted with the evil reputation of the unsavory sheet do not believe anything it says.

CALL 'EM DOWN.

The men and women who hissed Congressman Driggs because the latter doubted the veracity of a cadet who possessed... a convenient memory, should have been ejected from the court. The cadet who will brutally haze a weak and helpless fellow student will not hesitate to lie about the matter.

TRADES COUNCIL.

Some few years since there came into the business office of the News Review a committee representing Trades Council, desiring to know what we would charge per inch for the publication of union labels in our paper. The answer was that we would not charge Trades Council a penny, and for years that body published a full column, free of charge. The lower region sheet did not publish a single label. Facts speak louder than bombast and bluff.

LICENSE FOR CHESTER.

And the Rum Devil is trying to force its hideous and foul presence upon the residents of the fair little town over the river, the pushing and progressive Chester. Wherever prosperity presents itself, there rushes the liquor league, eager to place licensed hell holes in position, for the purpose of robbing the workingmen of their hard earned earnings, and robbing the wives and children in workingmen's homes, and doing its level best to aid the boss of hades in peopling hell with victims of the Rum Demon. Every citizen of Chester should enter hot protest against the introduction and establishment of an accursed saloon in their midst.

LOCAL HISTORY.

The News Review has always been a union paper under the present management; union from the standpoint of principle; never rattled for a single hour or minute; always ready and eager to meet any legitimate claim made upon it by true and sober union officials or committees. We defy any man or body of men to successfully refute this assertion. A local sheet in this city was run as an out-and-out rat journal for a year and a half, under the ban of No. 318 Typographical union, and only came into the fold again when forced to on account of declining patronage—union from a pocket book consideration. The same delectable sheet desired to rat all offices in this city, and employ female compositors at the same rate as at Alliance, $3.75 per week, and the writer was the cause of the defeat of this project to use slave labor, asserting that any competent printer should not receive less than $12.00 per week. Best of all, we can prove this assertion to be plain truth.

THE RUM DEVIL.

He is but twenty-six years of age, yet fair to look upon, and yet a complete slave to the Rum Devil. He pawned a fine overcoat at Wheeling and secured just enough money on the garment to bring him to Wells-ville on the train. He walked from Wells-ville to East Liverpool, entered a dive on Sixth street, secured a couple of drinks, and was then directed to the home of the writer, where he told a pitiful story of hard luck and struck us for a dollar. We failed to materialize on the cartwheel, but finally accompanied the prodigal to the depot, purchased a ticket for a point in the Beaver region, saw the lad seated in the cosy and comfortable passenger coach, slid the ticket into his hand, received profuse thanks for being, as he said, a good fellow, and then meandered back to our domicile on the hill, kicking ourselves all along the route for not permitting the boozier to work his passage home over the cross ties, on shank's mare, thus rendering him sober and repentant. Oh, the pity of it, that young men like the one described, bright and brainy, intended by nature to occupy positions of honor and trust, should lose all respect and manhood in consequence of the drink habit and the presence of the accursed saloon in our midst. God speed the day when this great government shall dissolve the partnership with the Rum Devil.

SUNDAY PAPERS.

Some time since, Mayor Davidson's attention was called to the fact that the boys carrying the Sunday papers were making themselves very obnoxious about the churches on the Sabbath day, calling their papers vociferously, and even daring to enter the vestibules in order to effect sale of their wares. Two prominent ministers entered complaint to the mayor respecting the matter, and he, with his usual energy in all matters pertaining to his office, called the carriers to account, and gave them their orders as per the following, taken this morning from Mayor Davidson, by Manager Palmer:

"I informed the boys that they must quit crying their papers on Sunday in front of the churches and selling the same within the church vestibules, and that if they did not obey this order, I would see to it that they did not cry or deliver their papers on Sunday, and that John Rose could then distribute them as best he saw fit. I had warm complaints from two prominent

Manager Palmer was called up by phone by Mr. John Rose this morning, and after the latter had indulged in sneers in general against men who are doing duty from the standpoint of principle, desired to know whether or not we were ready to apologize for the lie we had published in the News Review the other day, respecting the calling or crying of Sunday papers, intimating that Mayor Davidson had given no such instructions about the Sunday papers. We had no special desire to be called a liar at long range, and shut the hostile youngster off, and then paid a visit to city hall and interviewed our courteous chief magistrate. Mayor Davidson had requested Mr. Criss McConnell, one of the most reliable reporters in this city, to make note of the bad conduct of the carriers about our churches, and give them fair warning, so that they would not repeat the offense in this city, and Mr. McConnell evidently misunderstood the mayor, and thought he intended to have the crying of Sunday papers cease altogether in East Liverpool.

Holiday Presents.

As the holidays draw near the anxious question with many is, "What presents shall I give?" Not the cost of the article, but the peculiar fitness it has to express some sentiment, awaken some memory or convey intelligence, is what guides in selection. The best gifts are those which contain most of the personality of the giver and are most appropriate to the condition and feelings of the recipient.

Where some recognition of the Christly relation can be expressed great value is added to the worth of the present. Not mere beauty of design and workmanship, not the rarity and cost of material, will cause it to be cherished, but the spiritual allusion, the subtle charm of reference to inner soul associations, will make it prized when more expensive offerings are forgotten.

Above all other things, make the Christmastide a time of remembering, the source of all its joys and the full fountain head of all abiding happiness. Aim to give joy that shall be permanent. Direct the thoughts and affection of your friends toward Him who is the incomparable gift. And, for yourself, "present your body a living sacrifice unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Do not let the haste and care of these days press out of mind the most precious things of life. Do not allow time and thought to be so overoccupied that there is no room for the reception of God's best gifts. Keep room for the Master and His love.

Don't Want License For Their Town and Don't Propose

A MASS MEETING TONIGHT

All Good Citizens Are Urged
to Turn Out and Help Kill The

MOVEMENT NOW ON FOOT

The good citizens of Chester are up in arms over the proposed attempt to pass through the legislature a bill granting license for their prosperous suburb.

Today the following notice was sent out:

Mass Meeting

Of the citizens of Chester this evening (Thursday) at 7:30. Some move is to be taken in regard to the proposed act in the legislature to gain license for Chester.

Let every worthy citizen come.

Yesterday a petition was circulated in Chester asking that the town be granted a license.

The citizens of Chester fully realize what this would mean to them and a protest three times as large as the petition will be filed, and it will be signed by the best citizens of Chester.

The residents of the suburb have no desire for the curse in their midst and have seen enough crimes committed in Chester in the past year on account of the cursed stuff.

It would also mean increased taxes, in the fact that more officers would be needed to keep order. Hancock county is at present a Prohibition county and will remain that way if hard work and votes on the part of Chester citizens can keep it so.

Let every citizens of Chester turn out this evening and by his presence and voice lend a hand in keeping Chester out of the hands of the infamous liquor traffic.

Southside Notes.

Mrs. M. E. Jackson today moved from the house of Thomas Campbell on Carolina avenue to the house of Samuel Newell on the same street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Huff, who were recently married, today moved into their new residence on Carolina avenue.

Thomas Allison is ill at his home near the Allison school house with the measles.

W. and J. Moore, of Fairview, were Chester visitors today.

SUNDERED.

O love, since you and I must walk apart,
Spare me one little corner of your heart—
A shrine
That shall be wholly mine!

Others may claim, and rightfully, the rest;
If there I know I am not dispossessed,
All bliss
I, eager, shall not miss.

And if so be you sometimes offer there,
Though but in thought, the fragment of a prayer,
No more
Can I, alas, implore!

But that is much and shall, forsooth, avail
To make my footsteps falter not nor fail,
Though far
Our pathways sundered are.

Then, love, since you and I must walk apart,
Spare me one little corner of your heart—
A shrine
That shall be wholly mine!

A FICKLE IMMIGRANT.

Uncle Sam's Barge Office.

"There seem to be manifold opportunities among the immigrants coming to America on shipboard for falling in love, particularly on the slower steamers, when people are thrown together for a period of from 12 to 18 days," says John Gilmer Speed in Ainslee's. "In this case a worthy young Russian was cheated out of a very pretty bride by a likely Italian fellow traveler of the maiden. Strangely enough, she knew not one word of Italian nor he a word of Russian, yet the bride's countryman was jilted, and the pantomime lovers were married and set forth gayly and confidently to learn each other and the great new world they had entered at one and the same time.

"Another case was equally ludicrous. A Swedish maiden of somewhat fickle mind fell in love with a fellow voyager without apprising him of the fact that she was betrothed to another man whom she was to meet at the barge office and marry. It was her intention and outwit the former by a prior ceremony, but the red tape of the office prevented that, and the first lover came to welcome his bride. She then as promptly fell in love with No. 1. But when No. 2 pleaded and threatened, she could not decide which one she loved the better, so she was detained while the two men haunted the barge office, glaring at each other.

"When the detention time had elapsed, the bride, still not knowing her mind, was sent unceremoniously back on the same steamer that brought her over, both jilted lovers abandoning the field in despair. But on arriving on her native soil once more the maiden dared not face her people, so back she came, having just money enough to pay her passage, and sent for lover No. 1, declaring that she loved him the better. He replied that he was very much obliged, but as he had already married a handsomer girl in the interval he was compelled to decline to come for her. The maiden then sent word to No. 2 to like effect, but he declared that he had had enough of the fickle feminine, and thus in defeat the maiden was transported back again to face the leers and tears of her native hamlet."

Why He Wanted a Receipt.

There was a lawyer in the Indian country who had none too good a reputation for honesty, says the Chicago News.

One of the aborigines employed him to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it," replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason. "Since becoming a Christian I have been very careful in all my dealings that I may be ready for the judgment," answered the brave sentimentally, "and when that day comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and promptly delivered.

Cigars as Clues.

"Valuable clues toward the detection of criminals are obtained through an examination of cigar stubs," said a Scotland Yard detective. "This applies to those who smoke cigars, the stubs of which they carelessly throw away in the street or elsewhere.

"If you pick up any stub and examine it closely, you will be able to learn something as to the personality and social position of the man who threw it away. In the case of criminals the first point to be considered is the manner in which the end was cut off from the cigar. If a knife or any other instrument was used for this purpose, then this instrument will doubtless be found on the criminal; if, on the other hand, it was bitten off with the teeth, a thorough examination of the tip will show what kind of teeth were used for this purpose.

"A man with a row of even teeth will bite off the end of his cigar squarely and evenly, whereas one with jagged, uneven teeth will bite it unevenly and in such a manner as to leave clearly visible the marks of his incisors. By comparing the marks on cigar stubs with the teeth of suspected criminals prosecuting officers and detectives are able to obtain information which they could not possibly obtain any other way."—London Answers.

Thrive Without Meat.

It is the religion of nearly all Asiatics to abstain from eating flesh, fish or fowl, because it is a sin to kill for food anything that has instinct, "lest it be hindered on its upward way." Besides, according to the doctrine of transmigration of souls, one might kill and eat one's grandmother. But, aside from that, vegetable food, it is claimed, makes better muscle and bone than meat. Anyway, it is well known that the stevedores of Constantinople and other eastern ports never eat meat, and that, as a class, they have no superiors anywhere in the world in physical strength.

LYNCHERS CONDEMNED

Kansas Legislature Calls For Their Punishment.

NEWSPAPERS FOR DEATH PENALTY.

Officials Defend Themselves and Several Said Another Girl Identified Alexander as Her Assailant—She Asserted That She Only Said He Looked Like the Man

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 17.—A joint resolution was passed by the legislature deploring and condemning the Leavenworth lynching. The resolution favors a most rigid investigation of all the acts and circumstances attending the lynching and demands that the perpetrators be punished to the full extent of the law.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 17.—Officials responsible for the life of Fred Alexander, the negro burned at the stake Tuesday evening in this city began the preparation of their defense. The negro's guilt of the assault and murder last November of Pearl Forbes, which he denied with his last breath, was, they say, proved conclusively by his statements while in the Lansing penitentiary. This evidence, it was asserted, will be gathered and published.

In addition, Sheriff Eberhardy said that the report that Alexander assaulted a girl at Stillings, near here is true, and that the young woman had appeared at the penitentiary before the start for Leavenworth and positively identified the negro as her assailant.

Sheriff Eberhardy said in part: "Those who condemn me should place themselves in my position. I did my duty so far as lay within my power, but I was overwhelmed by superior numbers."

"I deplore the fact that Alexander was burned. I did my full duty as sheriff of Leavenworth county."

Chief of Police Cranston, when asked Wednesday if any effort would be made to arrest the mob leaders, said:

"No, I think not. I know of no movement to arrest any one. I do not approve of the burning of Alexander, but he should have been hung. He outraged another girl aside from Miss Forbes, on Labor day, but nothing was known of it until lately. This girl was taken to the penitentiary yesterday and identified Alexander as her assailant. It is my opinion that he murdered Miss Forbes."

Probate Judge L. Hawn said: "There are some bad features about the affair, and I am sorry for it all. The burning part is too bad; it hurts the community. It was intended to give an object lesson, but hanging would have been better."

Many of the newspapers throughout the state joined in condemning the lynching, and called upon the legislature to enact a law promptly restoring capital punishment in Kansas.

The funeral of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake, took place and was attended only by the undertaker and his assistants. The remains were interred in the Potter's field. The coroner has impaneled a jury, which viewed the remains before interment, but he had not decided when he will hold an inquest. He is looking up evidence in the matter, but is unable to find any one who can testify in the case. Nothing has been done toward making any arrests, and when the mayor was asked if he would take any steps in the matter he answered:

"It is a state case. I have nothing to do with it."

Miss Thole, who, it is charged, was assaulted by Alexander and threatened with death if she said anything about it, stated to a reporter last night that the announcement that she had identified Alexander as her assailant was erroneous. Her statement is that Alexander looked like the man, but she was not positive about it.

EX-GOV. MOUNT DEAD.

Became Suddenly Ill and Died at Indianapolis—Retired From Office Monday.

Indianapolis, Jan. 17.—James A. Mount, who retired Monday at noon from the office of governor of the state of Indiana, died suddenly about 6:45 o'clock last night, in his apartments at the Denison hotel. He had attended a reception tendered by Mrs. Mount to a number of prominent ladies of the city during the afternoon, and shortly after the guests departed he started out for a walk. Upon his return he said nothing about being ill, and after removing his hat and overcoat sat down to read. In a few minutes he became suddenly ill and was dead when the doctor summoned listened for a heart beat.

In the room at the time of his death were Mrs. Mount, her niece, Senator and Mrs. Binckley, Mrs. John H. Baker, Attorney General Taylor and two physicians.

During the forenoon Mr. Mount visited the office of his former private secretary, and was in consultation with him for several hours. In the afternoon he made a speech before the Indiana State Wool Growers' association, and was elected president of the association, and again spent some time with Colonel Wilson.

Part of the time he spent in assisting in receiving his wife's guests.

Three children, besides Mrs. Mount, are the surviving members of the family. The oldest child is Mrs. Charles Butler, who lives on a farm in Montgomery county, adjoining that of her father, Mrs. John W. Nicely, who is now at Beirut, Syria, and the Rev. Harry M. Mount, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Connersville, are the other children.

During his term of office Governor Mount was attacked several times by fainting spells, but none of them was serious.

Colonel Wilson, who was with him during his term of office, said last night, in part, that Governor Mount was worked to death. His close application to the duties of his office impaired his health.

Governor Mount expected to return to his farm in Montgomery county Friday.

The details of the funeral had not been arranged, but he will probably be buried Friday at his country home, near Shannondale, Montgomery county.

CADET HOTLY SCORED.

Judge Smith Flung Adjectives at Dockery.

DICK GAVE HIM A WARNING.

Scored Witness For Taking Part In Pitting of Fourth Class Men Against Well-Trained Upper Class Men—Brutal Hazing of MacArthur Brought Up.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Congressman Wanger, of Pennsylvania, before more testimony was taken, addressed the other congressional committeemen, and referred to the published reports of the hazing incident that occurred on Tuesday. Mr. Wanger said, in part, that in at least two newspapers army officers were charged with taking part in the hazing. He desired, however, to express his firm belief that no expression of disapprobation was made by an army officer present at the time. He was pleased to hear that Colonel Hein, acting superintendent of the academy, had instituted a thorough inquiry regarding the matter. Mr. Wanger said since the committeemen had been treated with the utmost courtesy by all the officers and he would be sorry should any erroneous impression become prevalent throughout the country.

General Dick and all the committeemen concurred with the views of the Pennsylvania representative, and the matter was then dropped.

Cadet Birchie O. Mahaffey, of Texas, who was a classmate of former Cadet Booz was called and sworn.

During the course of his testimony the witness admitted that the purpose of calling out a fourth class man was to have him whipped. He had never heard of a fourth class man winning in a fist fight with a higher class man, but had known of such fights that were called draws.

Cadet Albert B. Dockery, of Missouri, said he had exercised young MacArthur, who was with five or six other fourth class men.

"What was the reason for hazing MacArthur?"

"For not bracing hard enough," replied Dockery.

"You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur and that he was sick; in fact, had convulsions after it?" said Mr. Driggs.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you think it was cruel?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, base, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill famed, nefarious, odious, scandalous, shameful, shameless, villainous and wicked," said Mr. Driggs, and the torrent of adjectives almost took away Dockery's breath.

Judge Smith got Dockery to admit that when he found MacArthur was ill he felt anxious.

"Instead of exercising this young man to such a degree why did you not give him a chance to fight?" asked General Dick. "He could have fought instead of hazing. Can you think of anything more cruel than to exercise a man into convulsions?"

"Was anything said about it?"

General Dick then made the witness admit that he was worried and went to MacArthur's tent. It was dark and he could just see MacArthur lying still on his bed and that fearing detection, MacArthur was allowed to lie there without medical aid.

"Then you and the others who took part in the hazing of MacArthur were afraid to report his serious condition, fearing that by doing so the facts would become known to the authorities and you would be dismissed from the military academy?"

"Yes, sir."

General Dick switched to the methods of calling out fourth class men and pitting them against well trained upper class men. He warned the witness against the practice and scored him for taking part in unmanly methods of practically forcing a new comer to sure defeat and a sound drubbing at the hands of a picked upper class man. The witness was then allowed to go.

Cadet John C. Pegram, of Virginia, during the course of his testimony, said he fought with F. M. Smith, of the third class, in the barracks on Nov. 5 last. He was awarded the fight on a foul and was in the hospital for a week after.

NOT NOW DEMOCRATS.

Those Who Aided Quay Expelled From Party.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT WASHBURN.

Joint Caucus of Most Pennsylvania Democratic Legislators Requested Speaker Not to Regard as Democrats Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin, Galvin.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—At a joint caucus of the senate and house Democrats these resolutions were adopted: "Whereas, William J. Galvin, of the First legislative district of Schuylkill county, was elected last November as a Democrat and pledged to represent faithfully a Democratic constituency; and

"Whereas, The said Galvin has basely betrayed his constituents, as well as the county and state organization of the Democratic party, first by voting for W. T. Marshall for speaker of the house and again by voting for M. S. Quay for the United States senate, be it therefore

"Resolved, That we denounce the said William J. Galvin as a traitor to his party, an enemy to good government, a man utterly unworthy of respect, and one who should never again be entrusted with any position of honor, profit or responsibility.

"Resolved, That the action of A. H. Squier, of Wyoming county, who permitted himself to be counted as paired on the vote for senator with a man who was not a member of the house, and at a time when no arrangement whatever had been made for pairing, thus playing into the hands of the enemy, deserves the unqualified condemnation of every loyal Democrat, and such act should force said Squier into political exile.

"Resolved, That ex-Rex Washburn, who misrepresents the Fifth senatorial district, and who for years has been most violent in denouncing Quay and Quayism from the pulpit and platform, has by his treachery to his constituents and by his perfidious betrayal of the three political parties which he has disgraced earned the scorn and contempt of every man, woman and child in the state of Pennsylvania.

"Resolved, That Harry B. Shutt, John B. Kain, L. S. Fake, S. H. Rothrock, William J. Galvin and Madison A. Garvin, who voted for or aided indirectly in the Quay organization of the house, did not only with the full knowledge that they were directly aiding the election of M. S. Quay to the United States senate, but in so doing they basely betrayed their party, retarded the advance of reforms much desired by the truly loyal people of the commonwealth, and deserve our unqualified condemnation.

"Resolved, That we respectfully request the speaker of the house in making up his committees not to regard Messrs. Squier, Shutt, Kain, Fake, Rothrock, Garvin and Galvin as Democrats."

None of the Democrats against whom the resolutions are directed was present except Representative Samuel H. Rothrock, of Mifflin, Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, president.

The resolutions were offered by Representative Palm, of Crawford, and originally did not name Messrs. Rothrock, Shutt, Kain, Fake and Garvin.

Representative Cotter, of McKean, moved that their names be inserted, and the motion carried.

Mr. Fisher, of Northumberland, suggested that action be postponed on the resolutions, that the Democrats may have more time to consider the matter, but this was not done, and the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—Senator M. S. Quay left Wednesday morning for Washington, in company with his daughter, Miss Cora, and Private Secretary Wright. Edgar C. Gerwig, private secretary to Governor Stone, started to Washington Wednesday afternoon with the senator's commission. Mr. Quay expected to qualify today as a senator and then return to Harrisburg and direct the passage of the reform bills to which the Quay Republicans are committed.

The senate and house met jointly at noon Wednesday and verified the vote for senator at Tuesday's session, after which Lieutenant Governor Gobin formally declared Mr. Quay's election. Both bodies will meet today and compute the vote at the last general election for auditor general and congressman-at-large. A recess, it was expected, will be taken after this formality until Monday evening to allow the presiding officers to complete their committee assignments. The standing committees will probably be announced at Monday evening's session. The representatives of the senate and house Republican state committees were expected to be submitted and confirmed at the same time.

Speaker Marshall received a telegram Wednesday from a party of Pittsburg manufacturers and business men requesting him to invite Governor Stone, Senators Quay and Penrose and the members of the legislature who voted for Mr. Quay to attend a banquet to be given in his honor at the Hotel Schenley, Pittsburg, at a time to be fixed later.

THE POPE DISEASED.

Spoke With Satisfaction of a Letter From the Czar Replying to His Thanks.

Rome, Jan. 17.—The pope, in the course of private conversation with members of the sacred college, spoke with great satisfaction of the letter from Emperor Nicholas replying to the pope's thanks for the protection of the Catholic mission in Manchuria. The czar, whose answer was couched in the most sympathetic terms, said the Russian troops had obeyed orders given directly by himself.

DEFENDANTS TESTIFIED.

McAllister, Campbell and Death Told About the Same Story, at the Murder Trial.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 17.—In the Jennie Bosschler murder trial Judge Hoffman, for the defense, said: "Your honor, we wish to have one of the state's witnesses, Sculthorpe, returned to the stand for a further cross-examination." Sculthorpe was not present, and a court officer was sent after him.

Michael Dunn then outlined the defense in his speech to the jury.

McAllister, Death and Campbell were each on the stand. Their testimony was on the line that they were acting on a generous impulse when they took the girl out of the saloon to the hack. They claimed that she was "jolly drunk" for a time in the back room of Saal's saloon; said she was joking and laughing after the first drink; that she became "dopy" after taking the absinthe and then became dead drunk. They had thought a drive in the fresh air would do her good and had taken her across the river out into the country. The assault was denied. They had lifted the girl out of the hack because she was sick and they had conducted themselves like humanitarians in their efforts to bring her back to her senses. They had taken her to the brook to obtain water. They would have taken her home after she was dead, as the hackman suggested, but when they reached the neighborhood they saw persons about.

They maintained that they had no evil intentions against the girl. The meeting in the saloon was unintentional, so far as McAllister was concerned, and he had drawn his friend Kerr into the case unwittingly. Campbell became mixed up in it because Death didn't want to be seen on the street with the girl lest some one would tell his wife.

The stories conflicted with the testimony of the hackman, and the alleged confessions of Death and Campbell were introduced by the state and admitted as evidence. The state, which was beaten Tuesday in the effort to introduce the confession said to have been made by Campbell, succeeded in getting it all in Wednesday. Other witnesses also testified.

VOTING TIME CHOSEN.

Agreement Reached to Vote on Army Bill Friday—West Point Hazing Denounced.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The final vote upon the pending army reorganization bill will be taken by the senate at 4 o'clock Friday, under the terms of an agreement reached late Wednesday. Speeches in opposition to the bill were delivered Wednesday by Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), Mr. Teller (Silver Rep., Colo.) and Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.). Mr. McCumber (Rep., N. D.) made an argument in support of the measure. The feature of the debate was the denunciation of the practice of hazing at the West Point military academy. Mr. Allen, Mr. Money, of Mississippi, and Mr. McCumber declared it to be an evidence of brutality and cowardice, the Mississippi senator maintaining that a cadet whom others attempted to haze would be justified in killing his assailants. He declared that if he were a cadet upon whom such cowardly brutality were attempted he would kill those who assaulted him if he had to wait a hundred years for the opportunity.

PASSED IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed by the house. The bill had been under consideration over a week and had been assailed from many quarters, but its friends stood solidly by it, and defeated every amendment to which the river and harbor committee would not agree. The bill passed as it came from the committee, with some changes. It carried slightly less than $60,000,000, of which $23,000,000 is in direct appropriations.

The friends of the Missouri river improvement, although they were unsuccessful in securing what they desired, persuaded Chairman Burton to offer an amendment to permit owners of property abutting on the Missouri to build dykes and wing dams for its protection where such structures do not interfere with the navigation of the stream. The section empowering the president to negotiate with Great Britain for the maintenance of suitable levels on the great lakes was broadened so as to provide for a joint commission to conduct the negotiations.

A BANK ROBBED.

Safe Blown Open and $300 Carried Away by Thieves, at Rochester, Pa.

Rochester, Pa., Jan. 17.—The banking house of John Conway & Co. was entered and the safe blown open. Besides the $300 which the safe contained the robbers carried away certain valuable papers. Entrance to the bank was gained through a rear door.

The safe had three heavy doors, which had to be blown open before the cash could be reached, but all three doors were disposed of without letting anyone in the neighborhood become aware of the fact. The family of Mr. Conway, living next door, did not hear a sound during the night.

A Slav Appeared at the Fire Station And Asked for a Bed.

John Fallet, a Slav, appeared at the fire station about 8 o'clock last night and asked Fireman Terrence if he would allow him to stay at the station over night. Fallet stated that he was not a hobo, and had been working at the mills at Sharon and had walked from Youngstown yesterday and was on his way to Mingo, where he had relatives and expected to get work.

Mr. Terrence told him he had no place where he could keep him, but he would try and find him a place. He sent for George Kohert, a Slav, who resides near the fire station, who came over and talked to Fallet. After talking a short time he looked at Mr. Terrence with a smile and stated that Fallet was his cousin, whom he had not seen for over twelve years.

He took him to his home, where he spent the night and this morning he left for Mingo.

The Steer Escaped.

Smith made another attempt to kill the steer this afternoon, but it is not known whether he succeeded.
